

Recreation Committee Plans Supervised Play For City's Playgrounds

Large Staff of Directors Named For Busy Season Which Will Open June 28 for Ten-Week Period.

LUTZIN IN CHARGE

This Year's Program Will Be Much Broader in Scope Than Any So Far Attempted.

The city recreation committee of which Harry L. Edson is chairman, is planning a largely increased scope of playground activities and a much more complete and full program of playground activities than ever before attempted under the general direction of Sidney Lutzin, superintendent of the year-round program of city playground activities. The playground directors who will serve in the playgrounds this year were named today. They are Burton L. Van Deusen, Robert Dolan, William R. Reardon, Donald Moore, Lester Finley, Frank Ostrander, Edward Ford and David Kline. The young women who will serve as directors of the girls' activities are the Misses Joanne Ward, Dorothy Stewart, Cecile Thompson, Ethel Jackson, Ruth Nickerson and Helen Ross.

Larger Program

The year's program will be much broader in scope than any so far attempted in the city's history of playground activities. In addition to the regular playground directors, a man and a woman being assigned to each playground; there will be one man and one woman named to serve as supervisors of special activities. They will go from one park to the other taking care of such activities as child guidance, dancing, music, etc.

The handicraft program this year will be greatly enlarged due to the fact that additional facilities are now available with the erection of the new shelter houses in Block Park, Barman Park and Loughran Park, and that the staff of playground directors has been greatly increased over that of last summer.

"Community Nights"

Something new in playground activities will be what will be known as "Community Nights" at the playgrounds when special programs will be prepared to interest not only the children, but the adults as well. Father and son soft ball games will be staged and other athletic features, there will be campfires and community sings and other features to be arranged.

Neighborhood Councils

Plans are now being outlined by Mr. Lutzin for the formation of what will be known as Neighborhood Councils for each of the playgrounds. These councils will be somewhat similar to the Parent-Teacher Associations of the city schools, and the members will act in an advisory capacity. The membership of the councils will be composed of the parents of the children attending the playgrounds and of other residents in the vicinity of the parks.

Supervised Play

Past experience has shown the city authorities that supervised play has proven most beneficial in the past in the community life of the city as the children have been afforded every opportunity to play and work under expert supervision in the parks and playgrounds.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, June 3 (AP)—The position of the Treasury on June 1: Receipts, $28,704,471.37; expenditures, $36,443,257.74; balance $1,745,808,473.66; customs receipts for the month, $2,183,805.03; receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $4,449,828,988.32; expenditures, $6,838,178,489.08, including $2,602,845,276.35 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $2,388,350,509.76; gross debt, $35,211,477,940.94, a decrease of $1,390,046.74 under the previous day; gold assets, $12,025,190,885.34, including $793,861,973.84 of inactive gold.

Other Possible Depression

Washington, June 3 (AP)—Secretary Roper warned today against the possibility of a depression "resulting from an abrupt let-down following excessive buying for armament purposes. It was the first official expression of concern over potential effects of foreign rearmament on American business. The Commerce Department head said the chief danger to business safety "is the temptation to being led astray in business planning by temporary orders or inflationary production schedules."

Lehman Signs Ban

Albany, N. Y., June 3 (AP)—New York, which failed to ratify the federal child labor amendment, aimed an individual blow at industrial exploiters of youth today through a ban on the sale of goods produced by the labor of children under 16. The ban, effective January 1, 1938, was established yesterday by Governor Herbert H. Lehman's signing of the Numan-Moffat bill barring child labor-made goods from the state, regardless of where in the United States or its possessions they may be produced.

Gov. Davey Hopes Early Peace Will Send 72,000 in 7 States Back to Steel Mills

Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio sounded an optimistic note in the seven-state steel strike today with the announcement he was "hopeful" of an early settlement which would send 72,000 men back to the mills of independent producers.

Peace Lies in Might, Readiness, Major Tate Told Rotary

"Who ever heard of anyone deliberately picking a fight with Dempsey or Tunney?" asked Major Joseph S. Tate before the members and guests in attendance at the Rotary meeting in the Governor Clinton yesterday noon. His query came at the conclusion of his talk on military preparedness and it summed up his belief that no nation or group of nations would attack another nation strong enough to be a dangerous foe.

Unfortunately, Major Tate brought out a list of figures during his talk to the Rotary group that showed in conclusive fashion that the United States is woefully lacking in military might and at present is somewhat of a pushover for any militant nation that might consider it policy to tread on our toes. "When you read articles in magazines advocating a strong military policy," said the speaker, "please realize that these men do not speak for personal reasons. There is no pomp or glory in modern war. But the best way to stay out of it is to be so strong no other nation would want to be in a war."

Major Tate's discussion was more or less a belated tribute to the idealism of Memorial Day. In beginning his talk, he spoke on the history of that day and said it was set aside as a method of showing appreciation to those men who had sold their lives for the sake of their country. It was started shortly after the Civil War in the hope it would be continued every year as an expression of a nation's tribute to its soldier dead. "And yet," said Major Tate, "10 or 20 years from now will we be observing Memorial Day for thousands of men who gave their lives needlessly because of inadequate preparedness, training and leadership?"

Modernized War

The speaker went on to say that most of the wars in which this country has fought were fought by volunteers, men who were ready at a moment's notice to take up arms for their country. They were fine men, explained Major Tate, but the machine age in which we now live is a far distant cry from the days of the Minute Men. Modern warfare has changed as much as transportation during the past 50 years and skilled and trained men are needed to carry out the methods of mass fighting. "Discipline distinguishes a trained military force from a mob," quoted the speaker, "and unpreparedness causes disease and lack of authority and obedience."

"In the Spanish-American War 3,848 of our soldiers died from disease while 289 died in battle, a ratio of about 13 to 1. Lack of preparedness in subsequent wars caused the deaths of many men who should not have died at all."

Lack of proper training and lack of an adequate standing army has hampered the United States in all its wars since the Civil War. It happened in the War of 1812, in the Mexican War, the Spanish War and the World War. Major Tate stated that it took us 15 months to train a fighting force for the World War and we were fortunate to have an Allied Army of millions of trained men to protect us while we were preparing for battle.

"If we had a standing army totaling one third of our pension list since the Civil War," said Major Tate, "we probably wouldn't have had any wars at all because we would have been too strong."

'Bull Markets, Inc.' New Name of Local Concern

On application of Frank B. Matthews, vice president, and Mary A. Guido, assistant secretary of the R. E. Craft Company, Inc., of this city, operators of the Bull Markets, the secretary of state has granted a change of name to the corporation. This certificate of change of name of the corporation was approved on May 25, 1937, by the secretary of state and a copy of the certificate was filed in the office of the county clerk on Tuesday of this week.

The new name of the corporation is Bull Markets, Inc. R. E. Craft, former president of The R. E. Craft Co., Inc., announced yesterday his resignation from the corporation and his association with an up-state group of men in the conduct of super-markets in the capital district and in Massachusetts.

Police Board to Shortly Appoint Four Sergeants

The Municipal Civil Service Commission announced today that it had filed with the Board of Police Commissioners an eligible list from which the board could make the appointment of four sergeants. The six names submitted to the police board as the result of the recent promotion examination are Ernest A. Boss, James P. Martin, Howard A. Kinch, Ray Van Buren, William J. Leonard and Frank H. Fatum.

It was stated that of the 21 policemen who took the examination that 11 passed the examination which had been prepared by the civil service board. As only four appointments are to be made the board is submitting six names from which the four sergeants are to be selected.

The civil service board also certified the names of Sergeant Charles Phinney and Sergeant James V. Simpson for the position of police lieutenant.

The changes in the police department were made possible by the adoption of a local law by the Common Council creating the office of police lieutenant and increasing the number of police sergeants from two to four.

Court of Appeals Upholds 4 PSC Actions; May Affect Broadway R. R. Crossing

A unanimous decision of the court of appeals, which may affect the Broadway crossing in this city, has been handed down sustaining the divided decision of the appellate division and sustaining the contention of Justice Harry E. Schirick, justice of the second department of the supreme court, in four mandamus actions brought by the New York State Public Service Commission against the Long Island Railroad, New York Central Railroad and the Central and Harlem River Railroad. The peremptory mandamus actions brought by the Public Service Commission against the railroads to compel the railroads to comply with an order of elimination of grade crossings, was argued in Ulster county before Justice Schirick some time ago.

Bearing on City.

This decision of the court of appeals places the Kingston Broadway crossing elimination program in a different light, since practically the same condition exists here in regard to the Broadway crossing elimination order as prevailed in the four orders in which decision has just been handed down. An order having been made directing the elimination of the Broadway crossing the Public Service Commission now, with the time for an appeal having expired, may mandamus the West Shore Railroad and compel compliance with the order of elimination which has been entered in the Broadway crossing matter.

Schirick's Decision.

Justice Schirick held that the order of the Public Service Commission which directed the railroads to proceed with the eliminations in compliance with the orders of the commission should be carried out and he granted the peremptory mandamus relief asked by the Public Service Commission. At the time he contended that since no appeal had been taken from the order of the commission and the time for an appeal had elapsed and there had been no request for the re-opening of the case before the commission or an application for a modification of the commission's original order, that the railroads should comply with the order of the commission and begin the elimination projects.

Railroads Appeal.

From Justice Schirick's decision an appeal was taken to the Court of Appeals by the railroads. The Appellate Division sustained Justice Schirick's opinion in the matter but by a divided report of the court.

From the decision of the Appellate Division an appeal was then taken by the railroads to the Court of Appeals, the highest court of the state of New York and that court has by a unanimous decision sustained Justice Schirick's original decision and also the divided opinion of the Appellate Division.

The mandamus action brought by the Public Service Commission to compel the railroads to proceed with the elimination directed, was the first action of this kind in the state and came to the local court as a test action to determine the question of whether the Public Service Commission had the power to compel the carrying out of an elimination project.

FRANCE HONORED

Mayor Mercier Salutes, "Prince Who Was Sovereign of a Friendly People."

By JOHN LLOYD

Chateau De Candé, Monts, France, June 3 (AP)—Following is the text of the address which Mayor Charles Mercier of Monts delivered today to Edward of Windsor and Wallis Warfield after he had made them man and wife:

"Your Highness, Your Grace: "By one of those whims of destiny, it is under the blue sky and among the flowers of the garden of France, in the laughing valley of the Indre, that the most moving of all idylls has just unfolded itself.

"Behind the foliage of the hundred years-old park of the unassuming Chateau De Candé, in a setting which Monsieur and Madame Bedaux (the American owners) could not have better prepared if they had foreseen the great event which was to occur there, the illustrious wedding which innumerable hearts will celebrate in secret today has for its celebrant the mayor of a little town of Touraine.

"He would be unworthy of the great honor which falls to him if he was not aware, in fulfilling the rite and the laws of his country, that he represents at this simple but august ceremony a nation which has always been charmed by chivalrous and bold acts dictated by the heart.

"In saluting in its name a prince who was the well-beloved sovereign of a friendly people and she whom His Highness has chosen from a noble country to which we are attached with the same precious bonds—greatness and glory—permit him who has just received the mutual consent uniting your destinies to give you, in the name of his fellow countrymen and in his own name, the most sincere wishes for your happiness, a happiness the dawn of which the commune of Monts sees rising on this memorable day of June 3, 1937.

"To these wishes I add a hope: "To see you often on Touraine's soil. Your presence is as welcomed by us as it is an honor to us. Your Highness, Your Grace, we rejoice in your happiness."

Duchess Bedecked In "Wallis Blue" for Marriage to Duke

The former Baltimore girl's attire, including the whole spectacular array of line and color embodied in her trousseau, promised to sway the style for brunettes.

The soft color of the wedding garment, in the mode of an afternoon dress, with jacket, was offset by the gay pink feathers trimming her blue straw hat.

"Wallis blue" is an "individual" shade between medium and pastel. The bride's deep blue eyes, say fashion experts, are one of her greatest charms. Her figure is slender but rounded. Her waist is slim and curving—about 26 inches, with a trim hipline.

New trunks and old ones, carted from Cannes to Monts in the wake of her exodus from the Azure coast, are crammed with her honeymoon clothes.

Outside the trunks is the going-away suit—a dark blue travel outfit, straight lined, with a blouse in blue and white crepe.

Many Evening Dresses.

Evening dresses especially are piled high in the trunks. Among them is a white crepe Maroccan ensemble, by Mainbocher, to be worn with a glorified Carigan jacket speckled in white, black and ash-blue. The spangles and stripes jacket in diagonal pattern. There is a draped neck to the high-cut dress, and short sleeves.

Some dark evening dresses are accented with contrasting color. A honeymoon dinner frock is a sheath of black crepe, very slimming, made with slightly low neck in scalloped outline. Following the scalloped outline are four tiny frills of fresh pink mouseline, and the long, tight sleeves are frilled with pink at the wrists.

Crepe remain, in the bride's well-loved navy blue, makes another display.

VICAR ARRIVES FOR WINDSOR'S WEDDING

The Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, vicar of St. Paul's Church, Darlington, Eng., is shown between the police chief of Monts, France, and Major A. G. Allen as he arrived at Monts to officiate at the wedding of Mrs. Wallis Warfield and the Duke of Windsor at the Chateau De Candé. The vicar said, "I consulted my own conscience," for ecclesiastical authority to marry the famous couple.

Sun Hides Its Face On June 8 For Longest Time In 1200 Years

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

New York (AP).—A little island named Sarah Ann, which some maps show in the mid-Pacific ocean, has disappeared and with her has gone glimmering the chances of astronomers to see the greatest show in 1200 years, a total eclipse of the sun which on June 8 will last seven minutes and four seconds.

In these many centuries there has been no eclipse so long. Most of them last about two minutes. This great duration comes only at noon in mid-Pacific where there is no land, unless someone can find Sarah Ann.

Maybe Sarah Ann sank. Maybe she was just a seaman's geographical mistake. Charles H. Smiley in Popular Astronomy declares Sarah Ann is on the map, and in the right spot. But the astronomers have given up hope for her.

The main observing will be done at points where the eclipse lasts only three and a half to four minutes. One of these places is a coral island 5,000 miles southwest of San Francisco. The other is mountains 14,000 feet high on the coast of Peru.

Casts Speedy Shadow

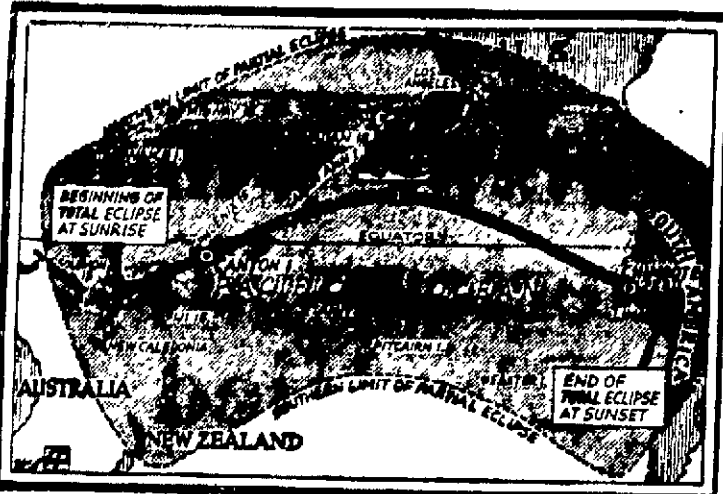

The shadow starts south of the equator near the Fiji Islands at sunrise. It is a black spot about 153 miles in diameter. It moves in an arch across the Pacific ocean, traveling 8,800 miles in three hours and 20 minutes to hit the coast of Peru just before sunset. The arch bends upward across the equator and below again.

The shadow speeds at an average rate of 44 miles a minute. But early in the day and again late in the afternoon it travels much faster, because of the slanting angle at which it hits the earth.

At noon when the shadow is directly overhead it moves only 21 miles a minute. That is the reason why the eclipse lasts so long at the missing port called Sarah Ann.

Watch From Ship Deck

One two-man scientific expedition on the deck of a freighter will try to be at this mid point at noon on June 8. The members are Dr. John I. Stewart, Princeton astronomer, and James Stokely, assistant director of Franklin Institute, Philadelphia. A rolling deck is unsuited to

WHERE SUN WILL STOP SHINING

Because the island of Sarah Ann disappeared—or never existed—scientists had a hard time deciding where to view the June 8 eclipse. Circles show sites of major expeditions. The location of Sarah Ann is that given by Keith Johnson's Royal Atlas of 1866.

precise astronomical work. But these two expect to measure the changing brightness of light and to take colored photos.

The largest expedition hopes to see the eclipse at 8:04 a. m. from Canton Island in the south Pacific. On this island it is estimated the odds are six to ten there will be no obscuring clouds. The National Geographic Society and the U. S. Navy are conducting this expedition.

On the coast of Peru the eclipse will strike when the sun is eight degrees above the horizon and at a time of year when fog banks generally lie 3,000 feet high.

8 Expeditions In Peru
By climbing the mountains back of the Peruvian coast three astronomical expeditions hope to see over the fog. At 14,000 feet their chances of success are estimated at eight in ten. The expeditions are the Hayden Planetarium of the American Museum of Natural History—Grace Line, Brown University, and a Japanese party.

The path of partial eclipse will be 2,000 miles wide. With smoked glasses spectators in the United States should be able to see this, as a little black nick in the edge of the sun, in a line that runs from California to the southern half of Florida. Points in this line are Eureka Calif.; Reno, Nevada, Amarillo, Texas; Shreveport, Louisiana; Biloxi, Mississippi; and Tampa and Palm Beach, Florida.

The astronomers will study features of the sun visible only during eclipses. The purpose is to learn the composition of stars. The sun is the only star close enough for detailed observation. If its structure can be understood, men will have a better idea about the origin of the universe, and probably of many chemical puzzles of the earth.

Corona a Mystery

The two main studies will be the corona, the halo of white light a million miles wide surrounding the eclipsed sun, and the atmosphere, a layer of blazing gases, many thousands of miles high, which can be seen clearly at the edge of the all but eclipsed sun.

The nature of the corona is a mystery. There is evidence that it is mainly oxygen. But if so, it is a state of oxygen not known on earth. The gases of the atmosphere, which include metals, can be identified with spectroscopes. This adds to knowledge of the sun's make-up. Measuring the brightness of the light in eclipse furnishes clues to strange states of ordinary matter on the sun. Other studies are useful for understanding radio static, sunspots and the sun's magnetic storms which sometimes reach all the way to the earth.

ALLIGERVILLE.
Alligerville, June 2.—Memorial holiday season passed without accident or incident in the village. The weather was beautiful, giving many city people an ideal three days' vacation in the country.
The Kreskie boarding houses were filled over the week-end. Trowbridge Farms was filled beyond capacity, having turned down several reservations. One hundred and ten guests were entertained there over the week-end.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill West of Jamaica, L. I., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Scheepmaker.
Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. DeWitt were Dr. DeWitt and family of New Paltz and Mrs. Lenard Baldwin and A. J. Baldwin of East Orange, N. J., who were spending a few days at Minnewaska.
Mrs. Frank Brooks and Mrs. Dickhout of Kingston were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brooks Sunday afternoon.
Miss Virginia Smith of New York spent the holiday season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith.
On account of sickness in members of the Cathedral Boys' Choir, the boys were unable to sing as scheduled for Sunday morning. Dr. Cantine of Stone Ridge conducted the morning worship in the absence of the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Battelle, Jr., are at their home for two weeks, after which they will go on a pre-arranged business trip to the Orient.
Charles Cogh and family of New Jersey were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bogart over the week-end.
George Van Wageningen returned to Mohawk Friday after spending a week's vacation with his sister, Mrs. Young.
An airplane invented by Samuel P. Langley which failed to fly in 1903 was reconditioned and successfully flown 10 years later.

Girl and Boy Get 29-30-Year Terms in MacKnight Case

Jersey City, N. J., June 3 (AP)—Gladys MacKnight, 17, and her former choir boy sweetheart, Donald Wightman, 19, were sentenced today to from 29 to 30 years each at hard labor in state prison for the murder of the girl's mother, Mrs. Helen MacKnight.

The sentences were imposed by Judge Thomas F. Meaney, who presided at the ten-day long trial which ended a week ago tonight in the conviction of the young couple of second degree murder.

The maximum penalty the judge could impose was thirty years. The state had asked the death penalty for the pair, each of whom accused the other from the witness stand of striking the hatchet blows which killed Mrs. MacKnight in the kitchen of her Bayonne home on the night of July 31, last.

The girl said the slaying resulted from her mother's discovery of Donald "putting" Gladys Wightman as she followed an argument between the girl and her mother over who should prepare dinner. And both denied they struck the fatal blows.

Calm and with heads bowed, Donald and Gladys stood before Judge Meaney for sentence and heard him say:

"I have no quarrel with the verdict of the jury."
He thereupon pronounced the sentences.

No One to Take Jobs, State Unit Finds

New York, June 3 (AP)—The public employment service of the State Department of Labor is unable to fill approximately one of every 20 job openings placed before it.

During April, the department reported yesterday, the service could not fill 900 jobs, 60 per cent of them in skilled and unskilled trades, although the names and job qualifications of 450,000 unemployed persons in the metropolitan area were registered. The department received 20,000 job requisitions during the month.

The demand of many employers for skilled workers with "recent work experience" and the virtual shut-down of apprentice training programs during the depression were listed as factors contributing to the situation.

The metal trades was the principal classification where jobs were difficult to fill. One hundred and twenty-five jobs in this field at wages ranging from 80 cents to $1.25 an hour went begging.

Lutheran Church Much Older Than Methodist

The Lutheran church is about two centuries older than the Methodist, notes a writer in the Detroit News. As its name indicates, it was founded by Martin Luther, whose opposition to certain doctrines and practices of the Catholic church led to his excommunication in 1520. The organization of his church began soon afterward and in 1530 the Augsburg Confession was adopted as its fundamental creed. From Wittenberg in Saxony Lutheranism spread throughout Germany, Sweden, Denmark, Netherlands, Poland, Hungary, etc. The first Lutherans came to America as early as 1643 and established a congregation in 1648.

The Methodist church was an offshoot of the Church of England and was at first a reform movement within that church. John and Charles Wesley had in 1729 formed at Oxford university a club for the promotion of personal religion and their careful observance of rather strict rules of conduct led to the term "Methodists." Briefly, the open-air preaching of the Wesleys and of George Whitefield and the opposition of the Church of England gradually developed the Methodist system into a church, from 1738 onward. The first Methodists arrived in America from Ireland in 1760 and six years later, their leader, Philip Embury, formed the first Methodist society in America.

The Friendly Tree

Compared with man a healthy tree is ageless, and it can grow into one's affections and become a factor in the life of a family, playing its own part in romance, contentment, happiness, sorrow and retrospect. The old homestead may go; the master may tear it down and replace it with something new and unfamiliar, feeling no poignant qualms; but the old tree remains, an old friend, a retainer, faithful comrade through all the summers and winters that the man has known.

Capital Immorality

Washington, June 3 (AP)—John M. Holzworth, former assistant district attorney of Westchester county, N. Y., charged in a statement filed with the House district committee yesterday that "prostitution and gambling is rampant" in Washington. He demanded a congressional investigation of crime conditions in the city. Holzworth protested the proposed discharge without further action of a subcommittee which investigated charges against police and district authorities in connection with the murder trial of Thomas Jordan.

Two More Auto Deaths

Syracuse, N. Y., June 3 (AP)—Two more deaths swelled the toll of Memorial Day week-end accidents to 21 in upstate New York today. Ames, Aiden Spears, 66, of Springwater, died in Wayland Hospital of injuries suffered Monday when he was struck by a car that state police said was driven by Jesse G. Gardner of York.

Pa. In Rome, Ervin Ohm, 23, of Ava, died from injuries suffered when the new automobile he was driving left the road and struck a tree.

Midget twins, who have attained a height of only 28 inches in 12 years, were born to a normal Los Angeles couple.

Building wreckers at Albany uncovered traces of a long-forgotten cemetery when their steam shovel dug up the tombstone of a John Caffery, "Native of Carlingford, County Louth, Ireland," who died in 1859, aged 73.

Red corpuscles in the blood outnumber the white 5,000 to 1.

DR. ECKENER'S TESTIMONY

Fears of American helium being used for military purposes if sold for foreign airships were dissipated by Dr. Hugo Eckener's testimony before the Senate committee at Washington.
 He pointed out convincingly that such use is impossible in Europe, because the airships are necessarily huge and slow, and would offer easy marks to the fast, powerful warplanes now found everywhere. All such craft are practical for beyond the sea is the transport of passengers and freight.

It may be different in the United States, he suggested. We might find such craft useful here for scouting purposes, because our country is so vast, and potential enemies are so far away, that there is no such risk for the ships. He also seemed to hint that his own expert knowledge would be at the service of our government or industry if we undertook to develop the Zeppelin type for either military or commercial use here. It is probably the lack of such skillful supervision that wrecked the helium-filled airships with which we have experimented. Further experimentation, with the cooperation of Dr.
 Eckener and his trained staff, might be worth while.

IRELAND REMAINS

That Irish constitution is being warmly debated in Dublin these days, with the Coirvagh Opposition and the Labor Party united to whittle down the dictatorial powers it would confer on the President. De Valera's party seems to be winning on most of the specific points raised, but has yielded sensibly on one matter. The proposed Constitution called for the use of the Gaelic name "Eire" instead of the English "Ireland". Now it has been agreed to use the familiar name in the English text of the Constitution and in all other places or documents in which English is used.

The Gaelic Eire will be used only in the Gaelic text and in Gaelic publications and literature.
 This compromise was effected in order to avoid confusion of foreigners who might think there were two different countries. Now the Free States would do well to go a little farther with the compromise and drop insistence on use of the Gaelic language in Irish schools and homes.
 The Irish speak the English language beautifully. Also, they have so many close ties with the United States, Canada and other English-speaking lands where Gaelic is unknown that they would shut themselves off from most of their friends if they turned back to their ancient language.

FOOD PERIL FOR DRIVERS

Road accidents may be caused as much by food as by drink, says Dr.
 Eric Ogden, physiology professor of the University of California. Also by lack of food. The fellow who is hungry and the fellow who has eaten or drunk unwisely are equally dangerous to themselves and others.
 This is particularly true when the driver, already so handicapped, is subject to the "hypnotic influence of long, humdrum driving and road-watching."

Good driving, he explains, calls for an even flow of blood (not alcohol-ized) through the brain. This situation is affected either by lack of food or by over-eating. The obvious remedy is for the man on the road to take "frequent and very light meals."
 For this purpose it is obviously desirable on a long trip to carry some kind of light food in the car.

NO MORE EVOLUTION

"Evolution is played out. Man is its end-point." So says Dr. Robert Broom, scientist from South Africa, lecturing to American audiences. He believes evolution has been the process by which life developed on earth.
 This development, he maintains, has not been the result of blind chance, but the accomplishment of an unseen force working through long ages to reproduce its own likeness in a living creature—man. The force, he declares, is no longer operating. "No new orders of plants or animals have appeared on the earth for the last 40,000,000 years." The organic world is now a finished product.

 That is, except for man himself, whose possibilities are indefinite.
 The idea is as unsettling to scientific minds as the basic idea of evolution has been to religious "fundamentalists". Evolutionists have held that all life continues evolving forever into new forms. Whether there is any purpose behind such evolution, scientists are usually unable to say.
 The big difference between them and Dr. Broom is that he definitely finds a purpose, which is the creation, supremacy and permanent progress of man. That is reassuring to thinking people who want something to grasp at in an age of shaky faith.

That Body of Hours

By James W. Burton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)
 SEVERE FORM OF GOITRE.

When there is a lump in the front of the neck it is not hard for a physician to tell that it is a goitre; there will also be, of course, other symptoms to guide him.

But when a patient has nervous prostration without the lump in the neck, you can see how difficult it may be for the physician to tell whether goitre or some other condition is present.

If the metabolism test shows that the body processes are working much too rapidly (more than 15 to 20 percent above normal) then the physician knows that he is dealing with the more severe type of goitre. He then decides upon one of the three methods of treatment: (1) medicine, (2) surgery, (3) radiation.

There is really no set rule among physicians as to the choice methods, but, generally speaking, in the milder cases complete rest, or rest and the use of iodine (Lugol's solution), is given, and in the more severe cases a choice is made between surgery and radiation—X-rays or radium.

If surgery is used the surgeon must decide how much, and what part, of the gland to remove because if not enough is removed another operation may be necessary, and if too much is removed the patient will have to take some extract of thyroid gland the rest of his life.

However surgeons have become so skillful in operating and so judicious in estimating the amount of thyroid tissue to remove, that most brilliant results are now obtained and in an incredibly short time. For instance, a physician friend, nervous, jumpy, irritable, a tremendous worker and a forceful speaker, with a heart rate of 120, came up to see me and after sitting down for a few minutes, asked me to take his pulse.
 It was beating 72 to the minute—normal. He said, "I've just walked in from my office—5 blocks—and it is three weeks today since I had my goitre removed." I was naturally surprised and pleased at such satisfactory results.

MURDER
ON THE BLUFF

SYNOPSIS: Jude Blinshop, my old flame, is mysteriously shot to death. That starts our stormy weekend at Farrington Bluff, home of Michael's cunts. A series of strange attacks occurs. Then we find the body of Michael's mad father below the bluff. Aunt Martha is shot in the shoulder, then she is finished with sleeping powder. The Skipper, Mike's tall, tuxedoed valet, whom I dismiss and search for her frantically.
 Cook, William, the chauffeur, and Annie, the maid, suspect Higgins, the old butler. William tells me why.

Chapter 42

We Lock Up Higgins

A SOUND from the stair railing grated on our ears, spinning us all about simultaneously. Higgins, fully dressed, stood on the landing, staring down at us. How long he had been there, we had no way of knowing. It is one thing to confront murderous fiends in tabloid headlines, but it is quite another to stand face to face with one in the form of an old family servant, whom you have known for a good part of your life.
 My lips were dry as I slipped the key case into my pocket.

"Hello, Higgins," I said. "Come on down. We were just talking about you."

The silence got under my skin. I waited for the man to answer, for Cook to explode, for Annie to scream.
 Nothing happened. For a space of fully 15 seconds we stood there while the old man studied our faces.

"Were you, sir? I can't seem to sleep and I thought I would make myself a pot of coffee."

He came down the stairs slowly, as deliberately as he had ever descended them in his life. Habit is certainly a powerful factor. If ever I had wanted to collar a man, Higgins was that man. And yet, I couldn't.

I said casually, "Sure. Make enough for the rest of us. I guess we can stand it."

No one spoke. We sat there and watched him measure out coffee, pour in water, and set the pot on the stove. He turned from the operation, smiling.

"I'm glad it's nearly over, Mr. Jimmie. There will be a boat here by morning, see if there isn't."

I could do nothing but murmur,
 "Yes."

He was guilty. I was sure of it. But sitting there looking at him I couldn't see myself telling him so. I cleared my throat.

"Higgins," I said, "you've led me on every single question I've asked you—haven't you?"

For one fraction of a second the eyes turned toward me were the sick, tired eyes of a very old man. In the next instant they were veiled and calculating.

"What gives you that impression, sir?"

I stood up. "You were seen out of your room on the night when Miss Blinshop was killed. You were seen going into your room fully dressed just before Mr. Michael called you and reappearing as if you had been asleep a moment later. You own the only gun in the house. You were seen coming down the stairs immediately before we discovered the injured cat when you swore that you had been in the next room. You were on hand when Miss Farrington was wounded.
 You even tried to get my fingerprints on the revolver. William and I are going to look you in your room. You will be kept there until the police arrive."

Those strange eyes never once left my face, not even after I had completed my distasteful task.

Making A Mistake?

MR. JIMMIE, he said very quietly, "you've known me for a long time. Do you believe what you are saying?"

"I'm sorry, Higgins. Yes."

A ghost of a smile crossed his face.
 "See," he said. "Do you object to my having my coffee before you lock me up?"

"Don't take no chances with him," cautioned William.

And so we sat there waiting for that coffee, waiting to be served by a man whom we intended to deliver into the hands of the law to lose his life. I was too busy with my own feelings to notice particularly what went on in that room. Once or twice the clumsy shuffling of Cook's feet penetrated my consciousness, but that was all. I doubt if any coffee on the face of the earth ever took as long to boil as that did.

At last Higgins moved to the closet and set out five cups and saucers.
 Cook stood grimly over him while he poured, her mind running, I imagine, to all the varieties of poison that could be dropped into those cups. My own mind was too full of all the other cups Higgins had handed me—of all the decent little favors he had done me. I choked on my coffee. The stuff Higgins drank his calmly and set the cup down.

"I'm quite ready, Mr. Wells," he said.
 But I wasn't. Suddenly, strangely,

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Ezio Pinza, Met.
 Italian basso, made a hurried trip to one of the police courts the other day, but it wasn't to answer for a misdemeanor.

He obligingly went down to appear with his favorite fruit dealer, who was being examined for naturalization as an American citizen.

And what did Pinza get out of it? So many stitches in his side as to laugh that he is still chortling.

"Who is President of the United States?" inquired the interrogating officer, giving the bananal merchant the old literacy test.

"Roosevelt."

"And who is the Vice President?" . . . Tony knew this too, and when he answered "Garner,"
 the Law put this one to him:

"Could you be President?"
 "Mister, you accuse me please," pleaded Tony, "but I work so hard the first county I gotta no time to be President."

OF MORE news value is the account of the flatfoot who, anxious to achieve his policeman's badge, went on a little scuttling expedition of his own. The cop's beat was a long and lonely one in the waterfront sector which curls through little dark and twisted streets. For several nights he had noticed figures hurrying surreptitiously along the alleys at approximately the same hour, and he decided to ascertain the reason, if any, for this regularity.

So that night, he lodged his burly Irish frame behind an old packing case, and as a shuffling shadow rustled across the street and turned into a dark alleyway.

"Hey, stop!" yelled the copper.
 The figure leaped into instant flight, vanishing in the gloom.

Just then, angry and speechless with rage, two plainclothes men rose from a similar hiding place down the street and advanced menacingly upon the hapless patroller. And what they told him wasn't couched in lacy, valentine terms.

At the last count, the copper was still patrolling his lonely, midnight beat. . . . But he still thinks he ought to be a big city detective.

IT'S still the old saw—them as has, gets. . . . One of the first short stories ever written by Katherine Brush was selected by a noted professor as an outstanding example of fine prose writing. . . .

Sundown Stories

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

WE DIFFERENT kinds of mice all have slightly different ways. But we each keep to our own burrows and do not bother one another.

The pine mice like the woods, as you might know from their names. Mother Mouse continues to "They build tunnels so close to the top of the ground that I should think they would be afraid, even though their home nest is under the ground, and even though they have a number of entrances leading to it—always a safe thing to do.

"They don't care for such large families as we do, but their families aren't what you'd call small.
 There are apt to be about 10 or 12 babies during the course of a year.

"They love bark from trees and sometimes they like to live around orchards.

"Then, of course, there are the red-backed cousins. They have larger ears and their fur is glossier, but they're about our size. And they are forest lovers.

"They love soft nests of moss, and they store up food for the winter in their underground rooms.

"Then there are our cousins the tree mice. Naturally, as you'd guess, they live in trees. They're not around these parts, so I've never met any. But I've heard they often take the old nest of a gray squirrel and make a home of it.
 Oh, well, everyone's taste is a little different."

Now the little man asked the mice to run down to the trailer and have them a fine meal.
 And with a squeal of thanks and a whisk of the tail, one was off again as Willy Nilly called his thanks to Mother Mouse for her talk of mice ways and manners.

The people here can't vote. They can only scream. So for members of congress to make a sort of governmental guinea pig of this city is as safe as playing with firecrackers. There was an exception, Representative Blanton of Texas, who got the "red rider" passed.

Only within the last day or so did congress finally lift the "red rider" off the neck of the city. It was a provision tacked to an appropriation bill two years ago appropriation in the city schools.
 They had to sign a form each month avowing that they had not slip never a word about how 100, 000,000 Russians are governed.
 Otherwise they got no pay.

Russia's A Blank

THEY couldn't even "explain" communism with safety. So they just gave it up. Officially, as far as Washington school students are concerned, Russia is just a blank space on the map, like Antarctica. One biology teacher "sists" she was taking no risk of losi g her pay check, so told her pupils that blood was composed of white corpuscles "and the other kind."

 Blanton was defeated in the 1936 primaries and the unpopularity of the "red rider" was accepted as part of the season. But there was a stout handful in the house opposed to repealing the act. They wanted to defeat communism by hiding it under a bushel.

To understand how congress can be doing these things, it must be remembered that the District of Columbia is governed by congress and the President in a manner resembling a combination of govern-nor, state legislature, mayor and town council.

Slaughter House

THE same day the "red rider" finally was repealed, the house listened to an extended debate between Mrs. Norton, representative from New Jersey, and Representative O'Connor of New York over whether Washington, 250 miles from either state, should have a slaughter house.

Mrs. Norton argued that "slaugher house people have lost sight of the finer things for which Washington was intended but she had to give in and take the bill back to committee. Now Washington may not know for months whether it is to become the seat

Glider Contest At Elmira June 26

Elmira, N. Y., June 3 (AP).—A record-breaking entry list for the eighth annual national soaring contest, opening here June 26, was predicted today by Dr. Karl O. Lange, contest manager.

In announcing the receipt of entries from 45 pilots and 31 gliders, Dr. Lange estimated the list will be increased to 125 pilots and 50 gliders before entries close. Last year, 33 gliders and 33 ships competed. Dr. Lange said that entries have been received from all parts of the country, including four from California, New Jersey with 11, and Ohio with 8, lead the states thus far, he said.

Three foreign pilots will compete.

They are Peter Reidel of Germany and Jonas Pyragius and Bronius Oskinis of Poland.

Episodes from the Down-Rent War

Dramatization of the Down-Rent War in connection with the observance of the Woodstock sesquicentennial was held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Lake Hill. The following dialogue is from the opening scene:

The opening scene takes place at the home of one of the renters. Two of the women of the house are sitting outside knitting or doing some other kind of work.

Eliza—Who's that comin' yonder, Sally?

Sally—Looks like one of the collectors. (Stepping toward the road.) Yes, it is, Eliza. Fears like one of the patron's men.

Abbie (Coming out of the house)—What's the matter, girls?

Sally—Old Livingston's men are coming.

Sheriff (As he enters yard)—This is Ezekiel Row's place, isn't it? Where is he?

Eliza—He's in the back woods today.

Sheriff—Well, we're after the rent. He's behind twenty-five dollars, and if you don't pay up, we'll strip the place.

Eliza—Sally, go into the house and bring out the old stockings (Sally goes into the house). Times have been extra hard this winter, sheriff. We lost two cows and Zeke's been sick with rheumatism too.

Sheriff—We can't help it. Got to have the rent. Where's that woman stayin' all this time?

As he says this there is the foot of a horn from the back of the house. The sheriff starts, moves a little, and his posse and their guide look at each other. Soon other horns are heard from other parts of the neighborhood, and the sheriff and his men move back to the road.

Sheriff (To their guide)—What does this all mean, Tom? Are you playing a trick on us? You dirty, etc.

Tom—No, I ain't sheriff. You oughtn't to let that woman get into the house alone. She blew the horn to let the other neighbors know you was here.

Sheriff—You big liar, you've got us into a trap.

(By this time farmers are appearing from different directions. They are all dressed in some sort of Indian disguises, and some carrying guns. Some of them shout the following: The horns they toot, the guns they roar.

The Indians are coming behind and before.)

Pete (A farmer in a wild Indian outfit who appears to be a leader)—Come on boys. Zeke's away, and the patron's men ain't goin' to scare the wimmen-folks. What do you want, sheriff?

Sheriff—None o' your business, you etc. We come after the rent. Ezekiel Row's behind with his rent, and the patron wants his money or we'll take all he's got.

Hosea—Ye will take it will ye? Not while there's Indians here.

(Another party of Indians mounted on horseback appear coming down the road. They dash toward the sheriff and his posse with whoops and yells and brandishing of guns. The other Indians on the ground greet them with cheers. The sheriff and his posse begin to show signs of fright.)

Seth (Grabbing the sheriff and pulling him off his horse while others grab the horse)—Here, boys, let's hold the sheriff until Zeke comes. (Others grab hold of the sheriff who struggles to get away.)

Pete (Recognizing the guide)—What's Tom doin' here? I'll be he brought the sheriff and his gang. (He and others grab Tom, who has started to run away), and hold him. In the excitement the rest of the posse slip away. I knowed all along he was a spy.

Seth—Bring some tar, boys, and get an old pillow from Zeke's house. We'll give them a dressing up they won't wear off. (The others yell and dance around with cries of: "Tar! Tar! Tar! Bring on the tar and feathers." The Indians who are mounted ride around the group until they are partly enclosed.)

Pete (As the men come from the house with a pail of tar and an old pillow)—Q back, give us the tar. Hold them boys. As the men try to break away the crowd gathers around them. A little tar is put on the back of each man, and the feathers are thrown over them. The Indians now turn Tom and the sheriff loose amid a riot of yells and firing of guns while some of the Indians chase them a little way down the road.

Pete (pointing down the hill to an approaching horseman)—Here comes Jake Van Leuven, boys. I wonder where he's been.

Jake (waving his hat in the air as he draws near)—Hurrah! boys. Just come up from Kingston and the news there is that John Young is elected governor. That means that we can buy these old farms and no more rents.

Upon hearing this the crowd gives wild shouts of "Hurrah for Young! No more rents! Down with the patrons!" The horsemen ride around with shouts and firing of guns, then they gather in a group and all sing together:

The moon was shining silver bright, Our sheriff came in dead of night, High on a hill sat an "Indian" true And on his horn this blast he blew: "Keep out of the way old Bill Snyder Tar your coat and feather your hide sit."

He ran and ran till he reached the wood And there in horror still he stood, For he saw another savage tall and grim, And he heard a horn not a rod from him.

CHORUS.

Next day the body of Bill was found, His wife lay scattered all over the ground,

But by his side lay a jug of rum, Which told how Bill to his death had come.

2 Memorial Shows Among 5 Listed at Woodstock Gallery

Woodstock, June 3.—At the directors' meeting of the Woodstock Artists Association held in the Woodstock Art Gallery last week five shows were planned for the summer.

The first exhibition, probably to open on June 20, will be a jury show. The July show is to be directors show and will be followed in August by a Memorial show to the late Arnold Wiltz, Woodstock artist.

The last jury show at the end of the summer will be followed by a memorial show of the work of the late Bolton Brown, Woodstock lithographer, and one of the art colony of Woodstock.

Scout Service at Temple Emanuel

Services will be held in Temple Emanuel on Friday evening, June 4, at 7:45. Rabbi Bloom will speak on the subject, "A Scout is Reverent." Youth's contribution to religion, a Boy Scout service.

Saturday morning the Bible Class will meet at the home of Rabbi Bloom from 9:30 until 12 o'clock.

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the Temple Emanuel Religious School picnic will be held in Forsyth Park. All children are requested to bring their lunch.

Labor Sit-Down

LaCrosse, Wis.—Joseph Urbanek, janitor at the Labor Temple, won a $5 pay increase before his sit-down strike was one day old.

He locked the doors of the labor headquarters and placed in the window a sign reading: "Sit-down strike." Later, Labor Organizer Robert Franklin and Urbanek came to terms and the building was opened.

These Boys Make No Bones About Working With Skeletons

CHICAGO (AP)—Herbert Sigler and Elmer Luecht don't shiver at the sight of skeletons any more. Herbert assembles and Elmer paints them. They prepare the bones, which come unassembled from various European countries, for medical schools or anyone with the price—$95 to $150. The boys say Europe has a monopoly on skeletons because it is unhampered by compulsory embalming laws. (Embalming discolors the bones.)

In summertime it is a relief to be able to slip the entire main course for dinner into the oven and forget about it until it is done, with no watching and no bother at all. The casserole dish of meat and vegetables makes a good all-in-one dish for this kind of oven meal.

The first airmail flight across the United States, made by Galbraith Rogers in 1911, took 50 days and 68 stops.

Zionists to Meet Here on June 13

On June 13 at one p. m. in Congregation Ahavath Israel, Wurts street, the Hudson Valley Zionist Region will hold its annual convention.

Delegates from various communities throughout the state will be present to determine the policies of the Hudson Valley Zionist Region and to deliberate upon the best means of helping to build Palestine and to further Zionist work throughout the coming year.

Keenly aware of the desperate straits of the Jewish people throughout the world the delegates come to this convention alive to their grave responsibility.

Prominent speakers of national repute will address the convention. Mayor Conrad Heiselman has kindly consented to offer greetings on behalf of the city.

Poor Man's Parson Escapes Action of Church, Is Report

London, June 3 (AP)—The poor man's parson who married Edward Windsor and Wallis Warfield, despite the frowns of Anglican bishops, apparently escaped disciplinary action today from the Church of England.

No ecclesiastical measures will be taken against the Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, it was indicated by the bishop of Fulham.

The bishop governs Anglican church affairs in France where the middle-aged vicar, volunteering to give his former king a religious marriage blessing, performed the Church of England ceremony—on his own authority.

A tempest within the church, however, provoked the question: "Will he go to work for Windsor now?"

Workaday England itself was divided into those who wanted to forgive and those who merely wanted to forget last December's abdication, and the "affair Simpson."

Many churchmen throughout the land were horrified because the Anglican vicar of Darlington, had defied his superiors to bless the union. But in other quarters the eleventh hour disclosure that "The Poor Man's Parson" would conduct the religious ceremony today at Chateau de Candé, in France, caused lively satisfaction.

The man in the street was deeply stirred to hear that the democratic former monarch would, after all, be married within the church of which he once was titular head, despite his post-abdication "isolation" by both the Church of England and the British government.

For Conscience Sake
The services of the Rev. Mr. Jardine were volunteered "for conscience sake" and without the approval by the bishop of Fulham, who has jurisdiction of Anglican church affairs in France.

The bishop of Fulham, after a conference with the archbishop of Canterbury, announced that the vicar of the Darlington St. Paul's Church had acted without the former's "consent or even his knowledge."

In Darlington, the Rev. Mr. Jardine's parishioners gazed curiously at his shuttered stone vicarage. Some recalled that their pastor recently had talked of leaving the parish for another appointment and wondered if this latest development meant he might become the Duke of Windsor's private chaplain.

The London News Chronicle bitterly attacked what it styled a "minority" in the church, which failed to recognize Windsor's claim to a church ceremony. The paper said it would provoke only sympathy for the duke "and anything but sympathy with leaders of organized religion in this country."

The Express pleaded for "Christian charity" for Windsor and his bride, adding, "They have already endured much and perhaps their anxieties are not at an end."

Other newspapers gave the wedding news a big display, but steered clear of the controversy revolving about the vicar.

Church Takes Stand
One church source said in reference to today's double civil-religious ceremony: "No two people can be married twice. The service he (Jardine) will conduct will be a courtesy ceremony."

Others held that objections by Anglican bishops meant the Rev. Mr. Jardine might attend the wedding only in a private capacity, and did not have the right to bestow the church's blessing.

The middle-aged vicar twice before has aroused the anger of high churchmen. Once the bishop of Durham accused him of "a grave breach of propriety" for preaching in a Wesleyan chapel near his own church. Once he was criticized for writing to parishioners and advocating a "trade union of clergy" to permit clergymen to discuss problems "untrammeled and unhindered by red tape and so-called ecclesiastical traditions."

The Rev. Mr. Jardine acquired the title, "The Poor Man's Parson," for his work in the Liverpool slums. "He's an interloper sort of fellow," a friend commented.

BROCKELHURST LAWYERS
ASK 30-DAY TRIAL DELAY

London, June 3 (AP)—Attorneys for Lester Brockelhurst, 23, turned to the state Supreme Court today in an effort to delay his scheduled June 14 trial for the killing of Victor A. Gates.
Circuit Judge W. J. Waggoner denied yesterday the lawyer's motion for a 30-day postponement of the case. Notice was filed immediately that application would be made to the Supreme Court June 12 for a writ of prohibition to prevent Judge Waggoner from holding the trial.
Brockelhurst and his girl companion, Bernice Felton, 18, both of Rockford, Ill., are charged with first degree murder in the Gates slaying.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches, rheumatic pains, lameness, and aches are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of disposing of waste and poisons from the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lameness, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 3 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

What'll He Be Up To Next?

Duke of Windsor Can Qualify As Playboy, Country Gentleman and Empire Salesman

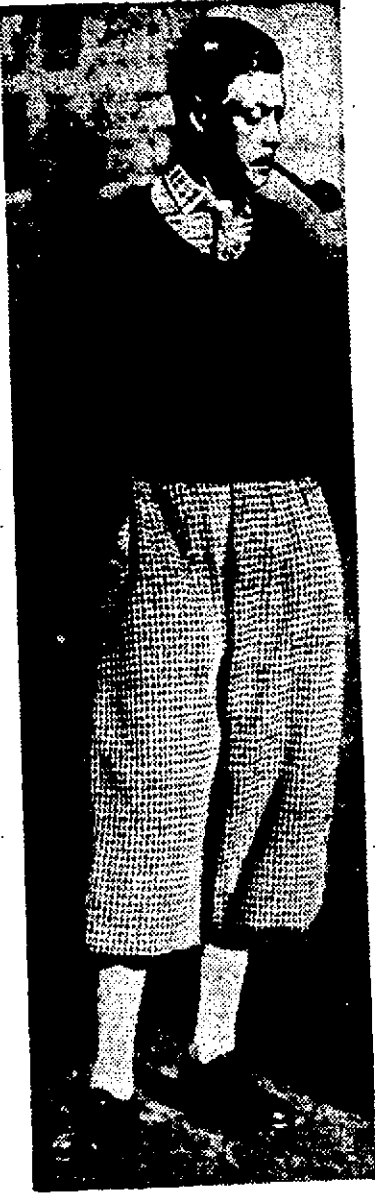

The Duke of Windsor has the world guessing again—this time as to the career he'll choose after his marriage on June 3 to the woman for whom he renounced a throne.

He's had experience as playboy, country gentleman and empire salesman. Should he wish to return to one of them, he could cite these qualifications for the job:

PLAYBOY

- 1 Fond of dancing and a gay social life (as Long Island learned during one of his visits to New York).
- 2 Famous as a "ladies' man."
- 3 Snappy dresser. Set many styles (which helped boost British industry).
- 4 Mixes a good cocktail (he gave the bartenders some new ideas on his Adriatic cruise last summer).
- 5 Well-heeled financially.

COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

- 1 Loved seclusion of Fort Belvedere, his country place near London, and of his Canadian ranch; is a garden fan.
- 2 Delighted in riding to the hounds.
- 3 Likes golf, mountain climbing, swimming, tennis. And he has a passion for keeping in condition.

EMPIRE SALESMAN

- 1 Democratic. Credited with understanding problems of common people.
- 2 Engaging personality. Good mixer — makes friends easily.
- 3 Knows his "territory" well. (In 14 years after the war he made 10 extended journeys to the dominions and countries outside the empire, "selling" the crown and boosting British trade.)

The World of Stamps

By QUINTON JAMES

Liberia, the country that has contributed probably more varieties than any other to animal-stamp collectors, has issued a new set of candidates for the philatelic zoo.

Five denominations bear animal or bird pictures, while the sixth, a 6-cent green and black value, carries the portrait of President Edwin J. Barclay.

All six are bi-colored triangles, with the centers and values in black, the frames in various colors. Besides the familiar star of Liberia, the bottom strip of the frame has an elephant in outline at either end. The five lowest denominations and designs are:

One-cent green and black, horn-bill; 2-cent rose and black, bongo (a large, reddish, white-striped forest antelope); 3-cent lilac and black, west African buffalo; 4-cent orange and black, hippopotamus; 5-cent blue and black, bird of the crane family.

For Child Welfare

Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia have each issued new sets to raise funds for child welfare.

The three Czech stamps follow the movie motif, that is, the two lower values have a closeup of part of the design on the highest denomination. A mother, placing her sleeping child in a cradle, appears on the 50-haler plus 50-h green and the 1-korona plus 1-k red violet. The full design, which includes a kneeling father playing a violin, is on the 2-k plus 1-k blue.

The Yugoslav set of four stamps uses a single design—profile portraits of 8-year-old Prince Andrej and 9-year-old Prince Tomislav. Denominations, plus surtaxes, are: 25-paras plus 25-p brown; 75-p plus 75-p blue; 1.50-dinar plus 1-d red; 2-d plus 1-d red violet.

Santa Rosa Of Lima

The patron saint of Lima—Santa Rosa—is pictured in a special 2-centavo stamp from Peru.

Four values have been added to Poland's set showing some of that nation's architectural gems. This set began appearing in 1935. The new values are 5, 10, 15 and 20 groszy.

Manchoukuo announces surcharges on four current stamps.

Netherlands Indies is backing up the homeland publicity for the fifth world Jamboree of Boy Scouts with two stamps—a 7½-c dark brown and 12½-c deep rose. Netherlands previously issued three stamps to call attention to this Jamboree which will be held July 29 to August 12 at Vogelenzang (Bird's Song), Bloemendaal. That's near Haarlem.

Demonstrations Saturday at Boy Scout Camp-o-ree

The demonstration which will begin at 3:15 Saturday afternoon will be one of the outstanding features of the three-day rally of the Boy Scouts of the Ulster-Greene Council, scheduled for this week-end. The rally will be held on the Armory grounds on North Manor avenue.

The arena which is being constructed will contain two rings and a platform, giving the effect of a three-ring circus and furnishing plenty of opportunity for the various scout troops to demonstrate their abilities.

In the signalling demonstration Troop No. 6 of Kingston is erecting two large signal towers from which signals will be sent throughout the field. Troop No. 61 of Shandaken and Troop No. 16 of Walkkill will demonstrate different types and methods of signalling. First Aid demonstrated by Troop No. 39 of Saugerties and Troop No. 12 of Kingston will show various first aid activities and methods the Scouts are taught. Two marching drills will be of special interest, one conducted by Troop No. 11 of Kingston, and the other by Troop No. 26 of Port Ewen. Troop No. 14 of New Paltz will erect some frame buildings, these will be set aside, a rescue squad will put out the fire and take care of the injured. Aviation which is taking a great deal of the attention of youth today will be demonstrated by model airplane flying by Troop No. 27 of Ellenville. Troop No. 46 of Catskill has a musical number. Troop No. 29 of Ellenville will demonstrate various kinds of camping. Troop No. 40 of Athens will have an Indian pageant with various Indian dancing. Troop No. 47 of Catskill will have a clown act. Troops No. 35, 36, 39 of Saugerties are combining in the Rip Van Winkle pageant. This will be one of the outstanding demonstrations during the afternoon.

Following the troop demonstrations will come the finals in the Wall Scaling contest, and the famous chariot race which will make the Romans green with envy. During the entire period of the Camp-o-ree the public is invited to witness the activities, the way the boys camp, the cooking of meals, and all the activities in connection with this affair.

Turn your eyes upon Jesus,
Look full in his wonder face,
And the things of earth will grow
strangely dim
The light of his glory and grace.

June is the month that reminds the bonds of matrimony are not except.

Friend—I've an invention at last
that will mean a fortune!
Man—What is it this time?
Friend—Why it's an extra key for typewriter. When you hit that key, it will spell a word you don't know,
and it makes a blur that might be an
"a" or almost anything else
you like.

Dumb animals are the ones that don't spend half their time below
ground because of something they ate.

A Yankee was on a Christmas morning in Scotland. Snow had fallen and he was struggling along a narrow road when he met a Highlander (plaintively)—I guess, friend, I sure am lost.
Highlander—Is there a reward out for you?
Yankee—None.
Highlander—Weel, ye're still lost.

Read It or Not
No snake is slimy, even those which live chiefly in water.

Polite Swain—Will you serve the chicken?
Worldly Walter—Certainly sir.
What'll she have?

The hen-pecked appearing gentleman was gazing rapturously at a huge oil painting of a very shapely girl dressed in only a few strategically-arranged leaves. The title of the picture was "Spring."

Suddenly the voice of his wife
snapped: "Well, what are you waiting for? Autumn?"

Dog Fancier—Fine bulldog you have there, sir. What do you call him?
Mr. Textile—Oh, I call him
Weaver.

Dog Fancier—Weaver! Never heard of such a name. Why do you call him Weaver?
Mr. Textile—Well, his legs are warped and he woofs.

Opaline—Did you go on a honeymoon, Susabelle?
Susabelle—Ah suppose you might call it that Henry done help me with de washin' de dust week.

BE BRAVE
I'm keved right up to a fighting pitch and feel inclined to cuss,
For seldom in my life before have I been treated thus.

My wife's responsible for this, 'twas
she that made me moan;
I never thought she'd treat me thus,
her heart is made of stone.
I had a cough, not bad enough to put me down and out,

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE

Chicago—Don't sniff now—but the refiners are "sweetening" your gasoline, to make it smell better.

Perhaps soon you can say: "Make mine orange blossom today—I'm driving to a wedding."

The new step in sweetening is explained to the American Petroleum Institute by W. A. Schultze and A.
E. Buell of Bartlesville, Okla. The sweetening gets rid of mercaptans, sulphurs which are the world's worst smells.

But along with the odor the gas lost power. To be exact, the power loss has been up to three octane numbers for each smell. Now the problem can be solved, say the Oklahomans, by using a bit of copper for sweetening. The copper kills the mercaptan, with no power loss.

The World of Stamps

By QUINTON JAMES

Liberia, the country that has contributed probably more varieties than any other to animal-stamp collectors, has issued a new set of candidates for the philatelic zoo. Five denominations bear animal or bird pictures, while the sixth, a 6-cent green and black value, carries the portrait of President Edwin J. Barclay.

All six are bi-colored triangles, with the centers and values in black, the frames in various colors. Besides the familiar star of Liberia, the bottom strip of the frame has an elephant in outline at either end. The five lowest denominations and designs are:

One-cent green and black, hornbill; 2-cent rose and black, bongo (a large, reddish, white-striped forest antelope); 3-cent lilac and black, west African buffalo; 4-cent orange and black, hippopotamus; 5-cent blue and black, bird of the crane family.

For Child Welfare

Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia have each issued new sets to raise funds for child welfare.

The three Czech stamps follow the movie motif, that is, the two lower values have a closeup of part of the design on the highest denomination. A mother, placing her sleeping child in a cradle, appears on the 50-haler plus 1-k red green and the 1-koruna plus 1-k red violet. The full design, which includes a kneeling father playing a violin, is on the 2-k plus 1-k blue.

The Yugoslav set of four stamps uses a single design—profile portraits of 8-year-old Prince Andrew, 6-year-old Prince Tomislav. Denominations, plus surtax, are: 25-paras plus 25-p brown; 75-p plus 75-p blue; 1.50-dinar plus 1-d red; 2-d plus 1-d red violet.

Santa Rosa Of Lima

The patron saint of Lima—Santa Rosa—is pictured in a special 2-centavo stamp from Peru.

Four values have been added to Poland's set showing some of that nation's architectural gems. This set began appearing in 1935. The new values are: 5, 10, 15 and 20 groszy.

Manchoukuo announces surcharges on four current stamps.

Netherlands Indies is backing up the homeland publicity for the fifth world Jamboree of Boy Scouts with two stamps—a 7½-c dark brown and 12½-c deep rose. Netherlands previously issued three stamps to call attention to this Jamboree which will be held July 29 to August 13 at Vögelzang (Bird's Song), Bloemendaal. That's near Haarlem.

Demonstrations Saturday at Boy Scout Camp-o-ree

The demonstration which will begin at 3:15 Saturday afternoon will be one of the outstanding features of the three-day rally of the Boy Scouts of the Ulster-Greene Council, scheduled for this week-end. The rally will be held on the Army grounds on North Manor avenue.

The arena which is being constructed will contain two rings and a platform, giving the effect of a three-ring circus and furnishing plenty of opportunity for the various scout troops to demonstrate their abilities.

In the signalling demonstration Troop No. 6 of Kingston is erecting two large signal towers from which signals will be sent throughout the field. Troop No. 61 of Shandaken and Troop No. 16 of Wallkill will demonstrate different types and methods of signalling. First Aid demonstrated by Troop No. 39 of Saugerties and Troop No. 12 of Kingston will show various first aid activities and methods the Scouts are taught. Two marching drills will be of special interest, one conducted by Troop No. 11 of Kingston, and the other by Troop No. 26 of Port Jervis. Troop No. 14 of New Paltz will erect some frame buildings, these will be set afire, a rescue squad will put out the fire and take care of the injured. Aviation which is taking a great deal of the attention of youth today will be demonstrated by model airplane flying by Troop No. 27 of Ellenville. Troop No. 46 of Catskill has a musical number. Troop No. 29 of Ellenville will demonstrate various kinds of camping. Troop No. 40 of Athens will have an Indian pageant with various Indian dancing. Troop No. 47 of Catskill will have a clown act. Troops No. 35, 36, 39 of Saugerties are combining in the Rip Van Winkle pageant. This will be one of the outstanding demonstrations during the afternoon.

Following the troop demonstrations will come the finals in the Wall Scouting contest, and the famous chariot race which will make the Romans green with envy. During the entire period of the Camp-O-ree the public is invited to witness the activities, the way the boys camp, the cooking of meals, and all the activities in connection with this affair.

Turn your eyes upon Jesus,
Look full in his wonder face,
And the things of earth will grow
strangely dim
The light of his glory and grace.

June is the month that reminds
the bonds of matrimony are not exempt.

Friend—I've an invention at last
that will mean a fortune!
What is it this time?
Friend—Why it's an extra key for your typewriter. When you don't know how to spell a word you hit that key,
and it makes a blur that might be an
"a", an "e" or almost anything else
you like.

Dumb animals are the ones that
don't spend half their time below
ground because of something they ate.

A Yankee was on a Christmas shopping tour in Scotland. Snow had fallen and he was struggling along a narrow road when he met a Highlander.

Yankee (plaintively)—I guess,
friend, I sure am lost.
Highlander—Is there a reward out for ye?
Yankee—None.
Highlander—Weel, ye're still lost.

Read It or Not
No snake is slimy, even those which live chiefly in water.

Polite Swain—Will you serve the chicken?
Worldly Waiter—Certainly, sir.
What'll she have?

The hen-pecked appearing gentleman was gazing rapturously at a huge oil painting of a very shapely woman dressed in only a few strategically-arranged leaves. The title of the picture was "Spring."

Suddenly the voice of his wife
snapped. "Well, what are you waiting for? Autumn?"

Dog Fancier—Fine bulldog you have there, sir. What do you call him?
Mr. Textile—Oh, I call him
Weaver.

Dog Fancier—Weaver! Never heard of such a name. Why do you call him Weaver?

Mr. Textile—Well, his legs are wavy and he woofs.

Opaline—Did you go on a honeymoon, Susabelle?
Susabelle—Ah suppose you might call it that. Henry done help me with the washin' de first week.

BE BRAVE
I'm keyed right up to a fighting pitch and feel inclined to cuss.
For seldom in my life before have I
been treated thus.

she that made me moan;
never thought she'd treat me thus,
her heart is made of stone.

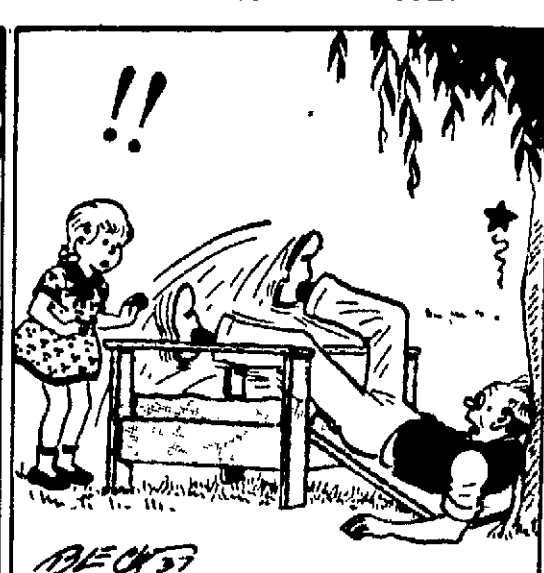

Had a cough, not bad enough to put
me down and out,
but just to keep me round the house not feeling very stout.

She used the most endearing terms, my own consent to win, poured honey upon my chest, and then she rubbed it in.

Ye Gods! 'twas like the fires below
when I began to rave, she whispered softly in my ear, "Now hush just be brave."

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

Chicago—Don't sniff now—but the refiners are "sweetening" your gasoline, to make it smell better.

Perhaps soon you can say: "Make mine orange blossom today—I'm driving to a wedding."

The new step in sweetening is explained to the American Petroleum Institute by W. A. Schultze and A. E. Buell of Bartlesville, Okla. The sweetening gets rid of mercaptans, sulphurs which are the world's worst smells.

But along with the odor the gas lost power. To be exact, the power loss has been up to three octane numbers for each smell. Now the problem can be solved, say the Oklahomans, by using a bit of copper for sweetening. The copper kills the mercaptan, with no power loss.

Eerieplane

Rock Hill, S. C.—Bob E. Bryant and Ted Wingate, local aviation enthusiasts, were standing beside their model airplane at the Rock Hill airport, admiring its lines and its six-foot wing spread.

Suddenly the craft took off, un-piloted, glided about over the landing field for a few minutes, flew away in a westerly direction, and has not been seen since.

True Bill

Wilson, N. C.—Sheriff William Rumley has this bill from a former juror for services rendered: Six days on jury at $2 per day $12; Eleven trips to courthouse, 5 1/2 miles at 10 cents per mile, 55 cents; Repairs on seat one pair pants worn out, $1.50;

Taken off jury three times, embarrassment each time $5, $15; Wore out one pair shoe soles, repair, $1.50;

Total $30.05.

A Good Job, But—

Minneapolis — Patrolman Robert Bullock is a little doubtful about the pleasures of a good job well done. He did a good job when he seized a motorist whom he suspected of drunken driving.

But the motorist, Clinton W. Ringler of Ft. Snelling, wanted to wrestle Bullock wrestled back—so vigorously that his watch slipped off his wrist and dropped in the street. He could hold the motorist or pick up the watch—but not both.

"So I had to stand there and see all those cars run over my watch," he moaned when the patrol wagon arrived.

Lofty Thought

Salt Lake City—A carrier pigeon brought a dispatch to the Salt Lake Telegram from the top of a precipitous mountain peak.

The newspaper's reporter, assigned to the search for a missing transport plane, said the weather was cold up there. The view was beautiful.

Then—

"What I'm wondering now is how I am going to get down from here."

Church Heavy Loser In Windsor Stand, British Press Says

London, June 3 (AP)—The empire that former King Edward VIII forsake for love today read avidly of the wedding he preferred to a crown.

London newspapers broke their recent reticence about the Duke of Windsor and gave full attention to the Chateau de Candé ceremonies that united him in marriage with Wallis Warfield.

Under full length portraits of the Duke and his new Duchess in their wedding attire, the press gave the British public, front page details of the nuptials.

An unhappy note was sounded, however, by simultaneous newspaper accounts of protests by Church of England bishops against the Rev. R. Anderson Jardine's independent action in performing a religious ceremony for the Duke and his twice-divorced bride.

Along with complete details of the wedding, the liberal London Star published a scathing editorial on "The Church's Attitude" and criticizing Anglican bishops for a "lack of charity."

"No one contests the right of bishops to maintain discipline within the church or to express their views on marriage. But the hard rancorous tone of these statements will, we believe, shock the public," the editorial said.

"Every sentiment of generosity to the fallen idol, of Christian forgiveness and of good taste dictates a truce to criticism on the day of the Duke's wedding."

"The man has been tortured and wounded for months past by abusive letters, by public rebukes and by private rebukes.

"It is deplorable to think that the only utterances of the heads of the church on this day should be censorious of the clergyman who is invoking a blessing on the union."

"The chief effect of this melancholy episode will be to alienate public sympathy from the church at the very time when it is seeking to recall the nation to religion."

Duke's Recipe for "Wallis Cocktail"

Chateau De Candé, Monts, France, June 3 (AP)—Here's how the Duke of Windsor makes the "Wallis cocktail" he concocted in celebration of his wedding:

One finger of cointreau.
One finger of peppermint.
Two fingers of gin.
Juice of half a lemon.
Soda and ice.

The Duke had the cocktails served to pre-nuptial dinner guests last night.

ROUNDTOWN PRESBYTERIANS MEET EARLY ON SUNDAY

An important meeting of the teachers, older scholars and members of the Children's Day program will be held Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the Roundtown Presbyterian Church. The annual Children's Day exercises will be held in the church on Sunday, June 28, and an attractive program is being arranged for the occasion.

The world pays a salary for what you know, wages for what you do.

the authority of the church, which does not like remarriage after divorce. He did it, he said, on the authority of his conscience alone.

Edward, accompanied by his best man Major Edward Dudley Metcalfe, came up the corridor from the dining room past where we guests were assembled.

He stood before the altar, in the center of which stood a two-foot golden cross.

A moment later, Herman L. Rogers, steadfast American friend of the couple, escorted in the bride.

Soft notes came from the organ as Marcel Dupre played a wedding prelude. It made a peaceful setting of the scene.

The Rev. Mr. Jardine immediately began reading the marriage ceremony. He took it from the Church of England's old book of common prayer.

Calling the duke by all his given names the vicar asked:

"x x x Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David" x x x "will thou love her, comfort her, honor her and keep her? x x x"

"I will," the duke answered loudly.

The minister then asked the duchess, calling her "Bessie Wallis," if she would "obey, serve, love and honor."

The bride, repeating after the parson, answered in steady, hushed voice:

"x x x and to obey until death do us part."

Windsor, also following the minister's reading, took the wedding ring of Welsh gold from the Rev. Mr. Jardine and slipped it on his bride's finger.

"With this ring I thee wed," Edward said, x x x and with all my worldly goods I thee endow x x x.

The vicar called upon the assemble to pray, asking that God give His blessing "to this man and to this woman."

"May they remain in perfect love and peace together," the preacher added in prayer.

Pronounced Man and Wife.

"Those whom God has joined together let no man put asunder x x x I pronounce that they be man and wife together, in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

It was exactly 12:14 p. m. (6:14 a. m., E. S. T.) when Edward and Wallis arose, man and wife, from the white satin cushion on which they had knelt to receive the church's blessing.

Now the guests arose and headed for the long table that was crowded with trays of oysters, baked ham, pastries and other delicacies for the buffet wedding breakfast.

In the center of the table, surmounting the whole array, was a great six-story wedding cake trimmed with white forget-me-nots.

Champagne was passed to all the guests and Major Metcalfe proposed a toast to the happiness of the newly-married couple.

The bridegroom, in bubbling spirits all morning long, was as self-conscious as a boy at graduation when his friends called upon him to speak.

He shifted first to one foot and then to the other, abashed and at a loss for words.

He just thanked his guests for coming.

I, one of the few newspapermen permitted to witness the ceremony, was in a position to describe the marriage exactly as it took place.

Later, I talked to the bride and the bridegroom and saw at first hand their exuberant happiness.

Leaving our silk hats in an ante-room, we were escorted by Rogers into the large salon where the civil ceremony was performed entirely in French and before only thirteen persons—including the Duke and Duchess.

It was ten minutes before the Duke, in the first of the bridal couple to arrive, came into the room.

Dr. Mercier, smiling, affable and apparently a trifle uncomfortable in his broad sash of office with gold tassels, already was there.

Father Manning To Leave Kingston

Popular Spiritual Director of Holy Name Society Going to White Plains—The Rev. John Simmons Coming Here.

The Rev. John J. Manning, one of the most popular curates ever stationed at St. Joseph's Church, will leave Friday for an assignment in White Plains. The Rev. John Simmons of Seaview, S. I., will replace Father Manning.

In the two years of his service at St. Joseph's, Father Manning made many friends, not alone of congregation members, but among people of other faiths, who admired him for his broad-mindedness.

Father Manning was especially popular with the men of St. Joseph's parish. He was spiritual director of the Holy Name Society, and by his magnetic personality brought many into the organization, which now numbers approximately 850.

It was Father Manning who inaugurated the practice of having uniformed representatives at the annual Holy Name Communion breakfast from the police, fire and postal departments and delegations from among the medical men and lawyers.

One of the qualities that endeared the priest to the Holy Name men and their friends was his eagerness to be a "regular fellow" at their social gatherings. He instituted the practice of holding a clambake once a year, and other get-togethers. With Father Manning in charge, Holy Name men looked forward with anxiety to the monthly meetings.

It was under the direction of Father Manning that the gigantic card party held by St. Joseph's in the municipal auditorium was planned and turned out to be one of the outstanding successes in the history of parish events.

Father Manning was as popular with the boys of St. Joseph's as he was with their dads. He planned outings for them and field days which they enjoyed. They will be disappointed at Father Manning's sudden transfer, which necessitates cancellation of a field day and Mass scheduled for Saturday.

In the notice of transfer, Patrick Cardinal Hayes instructed Father Manning to report at his new parish in White Plains for duty Saturday. This means he will have to leave Kingston Friday.

Leave Touraine Retreat

Chateau De Candé, Monts, France, June 3 (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, married today in two ceremonies, left their Touraine retreat tonight at 6:20 p. m. (12:20 p. m., E. S. T.) for the "haunted castle" of Wasserleoburg to spend their honeymoon in Austria.

ner dress. It is girdled with polka dotted surah silk. The girle finishes in a lover's knot at the front. A bolero jacket of the dotted silk goes along. Another jacketed ensemble is in printed crepe of violet-blue ground, over a rustling petticoat massed with blue taffeta frills.

Two things this Baltimore-bred bride insists upon are straight skirts and frocks with belts. No princess-fitted waists or full flared lines for slight figure. A white lace dress in this overflowing tulle-trousseau is a straight sheath, with short sleeves and at bateau neck. The roses in the lace pattern are outlined with red, and bunches of them are cut to trim the sleeves and make a flower cluster at the knee.

FAMILY TROUBLES LED TO POLICE COURT TODAY

Alfred Tiger of Abel street, arrested early this morning on complaint of his wife, who charged him with disorderly conduct, came up for a hearing later in police court before Judge Culloton at which time Tiger was directed to contribute $6.50 a week for the support of his wife and to furnish a bond of $250 to insure weekly payments. He was also sentenced to 90 days in jail. Franklin A. Bailey of Spring street was directed to contribute $10 a week toward the support of his family.

As between new taxes and public economy, a good many people want neither, but will probably get both.

Admired for Knowing What To Do and Say

Going away for a vacation? By your manner with fellow travelers you are judged. Let etiquette tell you how to make a good impression.

If a fellow passenger speaks to you, must you give him an icy stare, as grandmother was told to do? Not in 1937. By all means converse with him, if he looks like a pleasant sort. Only don't, in a first conversation, give your name, life history, personal likes and dislikes, or inquire into his.

On shipboard or at a resort hotel where you see the same people day after day, it would be bad manners not to smile and say "Good morning" or "How do you do" in passing. And if you'd be gracious and charming, keep the ball rolling in table talk.

It's perfectly correct for a person dining alone in a dining-car or restaurant to read a newspaper or magazine while waiting for the order. This is better than sitting listlessly, which is boring, or staring at people, which is bad manners.

A woman staying alone at a hotel asks her men friends to wait in the lobby and joins them there.

You can make pleasant contacts on your vacation, just as you can the rest of the year, if you know just what to do or say.

Follow the tips of our 40-page booklet, ETIQUETTE FOR EVERY DAY, and be admired wherever you go for your gracious poise at introductions, at dance restaurants, movies, formal dinners. Remember poise means simply knowing what to do and say.

Send 15¢ for our booklet, ETIQUETTE FOR EVERY DAY, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, June 2.—On Monday morning at 8:30, the members of Charles Vlebeigh Post of the American Legion met at the club rooms and drove to Cedar Hill Cemetery where they observed the usual ceremonies in the regular manner, from the Cedar Hill Cemetery, they journeyed to the Lattinow Cemetery where they held their services, after which the graves in the Riverside Cemetery were decorated. The graves of veterans in the Milton cemetery were also visited at about 11:30 o'clock.

The annual election of officers was held last Thursday evening by the Marlborough Hi-Y Club. Richard Norton was chosen president. Other officers elected were William Stevens, vice-president, Robert Johnston, secretary and William Stevens, police commissioner. The newly elected officers began their duties at the meeting held on Thursday evening. Plans were discussed for the week's camping trip members of the club are planning on making in June to Lake Wanasink. It is hoped to make the trip immediately after graduation. May Howard, instructor of science in the local school will again act as advisor for the coming year.

On The Radio Day By Day

By A. J. SUTHERLAND
Time is Daylight Saving.

New York, June 3 (AP).—Max Schmeling won't be in the ring battling Ray Braddock tonight. Rather, any scrapping he may do will be strictly word of mouth. He will have the radio as the medium. What's scheduled is an interview with Clem McCarthy on WJZ-NBC at 8 o'clock, a short time before he would have been mixing it with Braddock in the Madison Square Garden Bowl in New York. A dispute over the contract for the fight led to court proceedings. The interview by McCarthy, who has been selected as the blow by blow announcer for the broadcast of the Braddock-Louis go set for Chicago, June 22, is expected to deal with the fight that won't take place. As preliminary to the interview, Max was on the air from NBC studios Wednesday in a special talk which went short wave in Germany only. He spoke in German.

Dr. Wyckoff Victim Of Huge Insurance Racket, Hardy Says

New York, June 3 (AP).—The sudden death of Dr. John Wyckoff, dean of the New York University and Bellevue Hospital Medical School, and one of the city's leading heart experts, was added today to the record of federal government's investigation of the multi-million dollar disability insurance racket.

United States Attorney Lamar Hardy, heading the inquiry, said Dr. Wyckoff was an innocent victim of the fraud, and with this there arose a possibility that his death from heart disease thus may have been hastened indirectly.

Friends suggested that chagrin over having been duped and fear of possible damage to his prestige may have aggravated his illness.

Dr. Wyckoff, Hardy said, was among several prominent heart specialists who had been tricked into innocently lending their authoritative names to false disease claims.

On Monday Dr. Wyckoff had been questioned about the cases. Monday night he was found unconscious in a laboratory of the medical college which he headed.

He died Tuesday morning, and an autopsy attributed death to a heart ailment.

Hardy said "Dr. Wyckoff's connection with the inquiry was an entirely honorable one, as he was involved in no way and was not under suspicion."

Hardy said Dr. Wyckoff and other heart experts told him the clever devices employed by the racketeers to simulate diseases of the heart "could easily fool any heart specialist."

Ten more suspects were arrested yesterday, bringing the total to 30. Tapped telephone wires were one of the leading sources of evidence.

DUTCHESS COUNTY TO LIST WOMEN JURORS

Ignoring the attorney-general's office and the county attorney, Frank A. Brockway, commissioner of jurors, of Dutchess county, said today that irrespective how they may rule on the matter of putting women jurors on the county 1938 jury list, he will proceed to list women jurors and to apply to the city chamberlain, supervisors and assessors throughout the city and county for the names of eligible women jurors.

A dilemma developed when Mr. Brockway discovered that while he is required to make up his 1938 jury list by August 1, the law permitting women to serve on juries does not become effective until September 1. Unless women are placed on the new county jury list to be made up by August 1, they will not be eligible to serve until after January 1, 1939—a delay of almost 18 months after the new law becomes effective making them eligible for jury service.

Fresh Home-Grown Vegetables Here

Housewives who want only the best fresh vegetables can now secure an increasing variety from nearby farms, according to the Ulster County Farm Bureau. The first crop of lettuce is now being harvested and it is of exceptionally good quality. All crops are of extra good quality this year, partly due to the ample early rainfall. Local spinach, asparagus and rhubarb are still plentiful and will be in season for several weeks.

Within the next two weeks early cabbage and cauliflower will be available from nearby farms. An effort will be made by the Farm Bureau to keep the public informed when various home-grown fruits and vegetables are available. The purchase of local produce not only assures better quality but has a direct bearing on the business activity in Kingston and Ulster county.

Human Eye Is the Most Susceptible to Injury

The human eye is one of nature's finest instruments, and one of the most delicate ones. Normally, states a writer in the Chicago Tribune, it is used from the moment of birth, until the hour of death, except when its owner is sleeping. It is not so keen as similar organs in certain other forms of life, particularly in high flying birds, but it performs, when in normal condition, adequately for all of man's purposes.

Chief factors involved in seeing, however, are the optic nerve and the center in the brain for vision; the retina, which is the part of the eye that conveys images through the optic nerve; the lens, which is the focusing tissue; the muscles, which control the lens; the iris, which forms the outline of the pupil, regulates its size, and controls the amount of light entering the eye, and the fluids which are necessary to the correct working of the mechanism.

The eyes are subject to many ailments and conditions that may affect vision.

Among adults over the age of forty farsightedness is very common. The eyes may function properly to about that age, then the individual begins to have trouble reading, although he sees objects clearly at a distance.

No organ of the body is so susceptible to injury as the eye. A particle of dust or a cinder may set up infection which, if not treated immediately, may imperil the sight. Any foreign body lodging in the eye can cause extreme discomfort.

Feld-Hamilton Bill Signed

Albany, N. Y., June 3 (AP).—Governor Lehman signed today the Feld-Hamilton bill granting mandatory annual salary increases of $100 to $200 over a five year period to approximately 15,000 state civil service employees.

Peace Lies In Might, Major Told Rotary

have been too strong to have any other nation attempt war against us."

The speaker then went on to say that following the World War it became a general belief that our military policy was unsound. After two years of discussion in Washington, the Defense Act of 1920 was passed in the belief it would take care of any situation that might arise. This act created a standing army of 19,451 officers, 280,000 soldiers and 110,000 men of the National Guard to be increased to 440,000 soldiers in the National Guard of 1924. This is the law of the land today, but instead of having this number of men for a standing army, there are today about 12,000 officers, an army of 125,000 men and a National Guard unit of 187,000 men. In the 17 years since the passage of the 1920 Defense Act, today our standing army is one third as large in personnel as the Act calls for.

It was Major Tate's firm belief that our only sure guarantee of peace lies in our ability to have a trained army so strong that militant nations would fear to attack us. Our security lies in the strength of our armed forces and Major Tate asked his audience to remember this more fully understand existing military conditions.

The speaker was introduced by Commander William Reedell of the local American Legion and the meeting was in charge of past President Samuel Watts in the absence of President Arthur Colligan.

No two wars are exactly alike, each is worse than the one which preceded it.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calumet—And You'll Jump Out of Bed

The Morning Star is Co.

The liver should pour out two pints of bile into your bowels daily. If this is not flowing freely, your food cannot be digested. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up, your stomach gets bloated, and you feel miserable. The whole system is poisoned and you feel sick and the world looks black.

Calumet is the only medicine that takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "top up and going." Calumet is gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

"One ingredient, above all others, can 'make' or 'break' your salads. That is the Mayonnaise. It must be true mayonnaise, of course. But, I find there's a vast difference even in true mayonnaise. I always recommend Ivanhoe, because Ivanhoe is so rich, creamy and golden that it makes salads irresistible. And, it saves you money, too. Ivanhoe is so much richer in flavor that you should actually use less on each salad." Yes, Ivanhoe does have twice the flavor of ordinary commercial mayonnaise. For Ivanhoe contains twice as many golden egg yolks, more generous quantities of selected spices... and, of course, less oil. Enjoy the luxury of true mayonnaise—with the economy of true Ivanhoe Mayonnaise. Ask your grocer for a pint or quart of Ivanhoe today.

Judge Cunningham Flays Reds, Fascists, Pacifists at St. Ursula Commencement

With a fiery challenge to live American, Christian and Catholic lives, with a stern denunciation of the forces of communism and fascism, with a scathing outburst against pacifists, whom he termed "yellow to the core," the Hon. William D. Cunningham, former district attorney of Ulster county, former member of the Court of Claims, now a practicing attorney, living at Scarsdale, exhorted the 10 graduates of the Academy of St. Ursula, Marygrove, at the annual commencement exercises to go out and get Catholic college educations, so that they might be equipped better to fight for democracy in their future lives.

About 125 persons attended the exercises.

A diploma of graduation and a gold medal, presented by the Very Rev. Dean Stanley, were awarded to Miss Kathleen Cullen, Miss Isabelle Flynn, Miss Helen Grogan, Miss Martina Gugger, Miss Frances Hogan, Miss Miriam Maroon, Miss Rita McDermott, Miss Catherine O'Bryan, Miss Beatrice Sweeney and Miss Anna Mae Welschaupt. Diplomas and medals were carried by little girls of the kindergarten and lower grades, who offered them to Dean Stanley for presentation.

Wednesday morning members of the graduating class attended Mass, followed by a communion breakfast, at the convent. Following the commencement exercises the graduates attended benediction in the chapel.

Notables Attend
The flower decked shrine of the Blessed Mother on the stage of the auditorium was a background for the students of the academy. At the opposite end on a raised dais were seated Judge Cunningham and the Very Rev. John J. Stanley, P. R. V. Visiting clergymen and nuns sat on either side.

After the procession of the graduates the high school chorus sang Schumann's "A Song of the Country." This was followed by a piano solo, "Sous la Feuillie," by Thome, played by Miss Helen Powers. After the distribution of honors to the Fourth Senior Class, Miss Amelia Altamari played Lichner's "Cascade." The distribution of the Third Senior Class honors was followed by a selection by the chorus, "Anitra's Dance," by Grieg. Then followed the distribution of honors to the Second Senior Class. Miss Helen Powers returned to the piano to play, "Pas des Amphores," of Chaminade. With the distribution of the last group of honors, the musical program was brought to a close with the playing of "Valse Aragonaise" of Thome, by Miss Amelia Altamari, and the singing by the chorus of "Not a Sparrow Falseth," by Abt.

Judge Cunningham's Address
After the awarding of diplomas and medals, Judge Cunningham addressed the graduates.

He stated that the only justification of his presence that he could give was that he had been compelled by major forces over which he had no control to come up the Hudson river and be a guinea pig at this occasion.

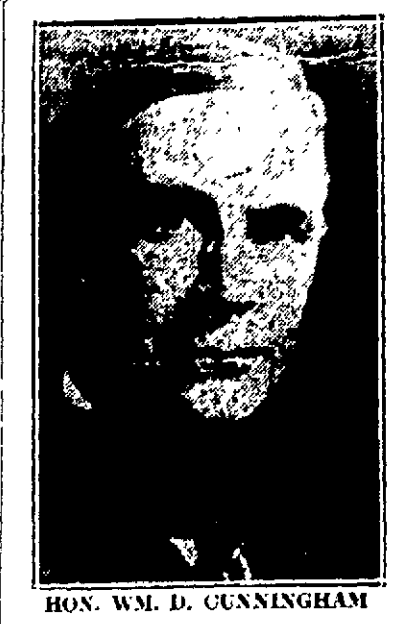

Coming to a more serious vein, Judge Cunningham said that he found it impossible to decline any opportunity to speak in Kingston, and then he launched into a dissertation on the need for Catholic education, because "the Catholic Church is the mother of the highest education and the best universities."

In days gone by, the papal bulls called forth the religious element to destroy the rule of the infidel and redeem the religious places that had been wrested from the hands of the church. Today the church calls for help in the struggle for the control of the souls of men and women. A crisis was shown to be facing the church as the speaker cited the many nations that were placing the idea of force and nationalism before the religion of the church and allowing paganism to supplant religion and culture. This disturbing force working today in defeating democracy in all nations of the world and fascism and communism are being taken too much for granted as an essential part of education.

Gain of Pacifism
Judge Cunningham struck a new note when he attacked the rising tide of pacifism that is becoming more and more evident in the colleges of the United States today. He also stated that pacifists were, "yellow to the core," and said that the reason for this movement away from the spirit of 20 years ago, when the call to the colors found the college students flocking forth in eagerness to fight for their country, was that today the student sees nothing worth fighting for, because he does not have the proper education to understand the mechanics of government and the world at large. The speaker cited, however, that the Catholic universities were turning out men and women who could see something worth fighting for and who could understand the workings of the modern world.

Judge Cunningham's closing remarks brought out the position that the graduation class had in all of this turmoil of the world by showing that the political emancipation of women allows them to participate in the problems of the future, and because of this they should go on to Catholic colleges and universities so that they would be prepared to decide the questions that are to arise in the future history of this nation. "An educated Catholic woman is a strong civic and cultural influence," stated Judge Cunningham as he congratulated the graduating class on its achievements.

This brought to a close the commencement exercises of the Class of 1937 at the Academy of St. Ursula. Honors were distributed as follows:

Business Girls' President.

MISS RUTH VANDENBURG

Miss Ruth Vandenburg of Downs street was recently elected president of the Business and Professional Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. to succeed Miss Edna Skinner.

The other officers elected for the new term were: Miss Margaret Schueft, vice-president; Miss Marion Phillips, secretary, and Miss Dorothy DuMond, treasurer. Those serving on the nominating committee were Miss Mary Howard, Miss Helen Gronemeyer and Miss Beatrice Powley.

Miss Skinner presided at the meeting. Annual reports were given by the secretary, Miss Dorothy Elston, and the treasurer, Miss Margaret Messinger. These showed that the club had had a very active year, with many interesting program meetings and had also carried on service work, supporting the Y. W. C. A. both financially and through active cooperation in many social projects, assisting the Mayor's Christmas Cheer Committee, and liberally contributing toward the Red Cross emergency flood fund.

The summer plans include the annual dessert bridge and entertainment to be held June 25 in the garden of Judge and Mrs. Joseph M. Fowler, and a meeting to be held at Rockhurst, the home of Miss Ellen Van Slyke, the last week in June. The next meeting of the club will be held at Maple Arch Homestead on Wednesday, June 8. Reservations for this supper should be made at the "Y" office in advance.

Frank Vernon, a Junior year student at Lehigh University, has been spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Vernon of North Manor avenue. Mr. Vernon has taken a position for the summer with the Western Electric Company in Kearney, N. J. Other students who have returned to their homes for the summer are Miss Marjory Osterhout of Duke University and Herbert Greenwald of the University of Pennsylvania.

The Social Dancing class of School No. 6 closed its season yesterday afternoon. An informal dance was conducted after which the committee served refreshments. Those attending were: The Misses Phyllis Hart, Anna Connolly, Freida Loomis, Thelma Carrington, Kathryn Phinney, Betty Boyce and Thelma Peterson, and Jack Spader, Fred Seeger, Jason Goumas, Jack Ross, Robert Flicker, John Quigley and Thomas Imperial.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Donald S. Fellows of Saugerties and Miss Hilma Nash of Ridgefield, Conn. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's parents on Thursday, June 24.

Mr. and Mrs. William Byrne, of Elmendorf street, left Wednesday to motor to Worcester, Mass., where they will meet their son, William, Jr., who has just completed his freshman year at Holy Cross College.

Mrs. A. DuBois Rose, of Fair street, as well as several other Ulster county people are among those attending the Congress of American Private Enterprises being held this week in New York city, under the auspices of the New York State Economic Council.

Checked Against Chill

Not so long that it will drag through the water when you get out of the canoe, and not too short to give plenty of chill protection against lake breezes, is this swaggar coat of summerweight wool. Its plaid pattern combines navy, yellow and white in cheerful harmony.

Two Materials—Two Pattern Pieces

Take "time out" to begin on this striking Two Patch quilt, called "Summer and Winter" by reason of its snowy and flowery patches. The change-about design made by but two pattern pieces lends novelty and effectiveness that will surely gain the envy and admiration of your friends. Anyone, even a beginner, can piece these simple 8-inch blocks—accompanying directions are so clear; the "spare time" work so profitable! In pattern 5867 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration of the finished block in actual size, showing contrasting fabrics; accurately drawn pattern pieces; an illustration of the entire quilt; three color schemes; step-by-step directions for making the quilt, and exact yardage requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

PEPLUM SURPRISE FEATURED IN SLIMMING MARIAN MARTIN FROCK

PATTERN 9291

If you're looking for a really flattering summertime frock, this style will not only do wonders for your figure, but make you feel ever so much slimmer and more youthful. You'll wear it for all occasions, bridge parties, teas, and for those pleasant summer evenings when friends drop in for a visit. Take your choice of two different sleeve effects—one that puffs ever so softly at the elbow—the other wide and rippling. Just think, you can detach the peplum on this surprise frock, for an altogether different effect! You'll like the low V neckline and the slightly flared skirt. Pattern 9291 is easy to make and would be ideal in flower-spangled voile, colorful lawn or inexpensive synthetic. Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9291 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 yards 39 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Denies Knowledge Of Plan to Move Water Board Office

James A. Guttridge, department engineer in charge of the New York Board of Water Supply office in Kingston, when questioned this morning regarding the statement that there was a move to transfer the Kingston offices of the Board to Ellenville, said that so far as he knew no such move was contemplated. Mr. Guttridge said that there had been some rumors to that effect prevalent a few weeks ago, but that he had had no information that such a move was to be effected.

Mr. Guttridge commented on the fact that recently the Board leased new offices in the Opera House Building on Fair street and said that if the New York Commissioners planned to transfer the office to Ellenville it was something that was being handled entirely by the New York officials and he had no knowledge of it.

TOM'S SQUARE STORE PRAISES FREEMAN

"Tommy" Galvin of Tom's Square Auto Store, 765 Broadway, has written The Freeman stating that the results of his advertisement the past week in The Freeman brought more replies than he had expected.

"The customers poured into the store so heavily over the week-end that it was necessary to add another salesman to the present staff," writes the manager. The new salesman is Stanley E. Carson.

Ship Affire in Pacific

Manila, P. I., June 3 (AP).—The drove the entire crew of 52 from the German motorship Oliva for the second time tonight as rain storms barked three airplanes in attempts to aid five men seriously injured fighting the flames. Offices of the Hamburg American Line here reported the crew was taken off by the German steamer Friderun. Earlier the crew had taken to lifeboats but returned to fight the fire when rain squalls started. The same rain hit the two U. S. Army amphibian planes from finding the German motorship.

Jean Harlow Ill.

Beverly Hills, Calif., June 3 (AP).—Jean Harlow, exotic screen star, has been in a critical condition from inflammation of the gall bladder, her mother disclosed today, but the actress now has passed the crisis in her illness. "I feel like the whole world has been lifted from my shoulders," the mother, Mrs. Jean Harlow, exclaimed, near tears, after staying up all night outside her daughter's sick room.

The U. S. army ordered its first airplane from the Wright brothers in 1908.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Less Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and sore all over—because you are carrying too much fat—do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people dieted in vain and still feel fat. It's because a little gland is not working right. All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "drain" acts in a furnace. Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks and millions of pounds of excess fat have been wiped out this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors to reduce your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is a every box so you know just what you're taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your drugstore.

Parade Held on Memorial Day

Highland, June 3.—Memorial Day was fittingly celebrated in the morning by the annual parade down Church street to the cemetery where the opening prayer at the Soldier's monument was made by the Rev. Dr. J. S. Haynes, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and who later gave the address. The benediction was given by the Rev. Charles Rizzo, of St. Augustine's Church. Taps were sounded by George Muller, Jr.

The parade was led by marshals, followed by the Rev. Dr. J. S. Haynes and his wife, Supervisor John F. Rizzo, Solomon G. Carpenter and Walter Hasoruck of the town board; members of Lloyd Post, No. 193, American Legion with 27 men were followed by the coming Junior Legion boys led by Edward Dwyer. The 15th Regiment music led by Roger Kniffin as drum major was followed by school girls and boys and a group of eight Name Society with the men of Holy Name Society with flags came ahead of a group of Sons of Italy marchers of 20 men; the old hose cart of the vintage of 1893 was drawn by 10 small boys; the large pumper; members of the Highland Hose company, 24 in all in their new uniforms preceded the decorated floats and floats. The decorated floats included: Daughters of America; Court Nilans; Catholic Daughters of America; three Catholic school children; the U. D. club; Vineyard Rebekah lodge; Sunshine lodge, I. O. F.; Queen Esther club; Order of Eastern Star; Music Study club; Highland Grange; Juvenile Grange; P. E. O. Sisterhood; and some 75 cars made up a long line slowly creeping down towards the city of the dead.

On their return the foot marchers went on up the Milton hill and circled around the Soldier's monument and then to the village square to disband.

The floats and decorated cars used their lodge and society colors to great advantage. There were several that displayed ingenuity and taste in their trimmings. The Juvenile Grange was a hay wagon filled with the youthful members sitting on the sides and drawn by a faithful old horse. The pink and green of the Eastern Star worked out on the top of the car; the purple and white of the U. D. society was carried out in flowers and lettering; P. E. O. had yellow and white; the men in the Sunshine lodge float were dressed in the regalia of their lodge; the models and white doves used in the Grange float were most effective.

In the afternoon the Legion conducted contests and games on the P. T. A. field which were attended by a large crowd.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By ALICE FAYE
(Guest columnist for Robin Coons)

HOLLYWOOD—Ever since I was a child I have wanted to travel. So I have perfected a way of living in "every part of the world" without ever leaving Hollywood.

I move from house to house, hotel to hotel, apartment to apartment. I have moved exactly 22 times since I came to Hollywood a little less than four years ago from the New York state. And each time I move I choose a different style, house. Always I select one representing a different part of the world from the home I lived in last.

In spring and summer I live in houses. During the winter I prefer hotels and apartments. I moved into a home in Beverly Hills last week just before starting "You Can't Have Everything."

My new place is a 12-room English style home. It has a swimming pool, which is one of the main reasons I rented it. But since I couldn't go to the coronation in person, at least I could go to England in fancy by living in an English style home.

A New Outlook

You might wonder why I move so often. It's an escape mechanism, I admit, but a very pleasant one. Most persons have some way in which they renew their outlook on things. Some buy a new hat, a pair of shoes, a dress or a suit. I move.

Although I've had only a few days off from picture work since last August—when I took a brief trip to New York—I have been almost around the world, residentially speaking. I have just moved out of a French Normandy home in Hollywood. Before that I lived in a Swiss chalet apartment house. Two months before that I lived in a hotel of Mediterranean architecture.

'Wait Till I Move'

When the casting office calls me, instead of saying as many other players do, "Wait until I get my hat," I always say, "Wait until I move."

Don't get me wrong. I don't buy the places. I don't own even an occasional chair. I merely move my personal belongings each time I rent another place. When I finish my current picture, I expect to move into a long, rambling, lazy Spanish style home.

Such a change, I hope, will give me my "vacation."

Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield Dickerson and son George were in town Monday calling on former friends.

Miss Edna Curry is ill at her home and Mrs. Daniel Gaffney is substitute teacher for her. Mrs. Ledyard Ball substituted Tuesday for Mrs. Belle Tamney and Mrs. Herman Jordan will finish the year for Mrs. Beatrice Grimm who is ill in a hospital.

Mrs. James Donovan, Mrs. Donovan of New Jersey and Miss Mary Vivian Reamer of New Castle, Pa. were holiday guests of Miss Mary Mack and Mrs. Rose Dooley.

The three large bouquets of hot house flowers in the Presbyterian church on Sunday were memorial flowers for Mrs. Minnie West given by her sisters; Harcourt J. Pratt and for Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Yeager and Raymond Yeager given by Mrs. J. J. Donovan.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rhodes drove to Tarrytown Tuesday afternoon to visit their daughter, Mrs. Donald Randall.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "A Star Is Born." Brightened by the new Technicolor and directed by the rising William A. Wellman, here is a true and searching story of the Hollywood film factories and of the people who grasp for stardom. And it then slip back into oblivion. The plot deals with a matinee idol who is past his prime and of a young girl tasting the first thrill of recognition in the picture industry. The entire production centers around the people who make pictures and takes you behind the scenes. Actors, directors, producers and extras are all part of the plot in this play and there is an arresting quality about the show that is a mixture of human ambition and human failure. Janet Gaynor and Frederic March, in the starring roles, contribute two notable performances and a star studded cast includes Adolphe Menjou and Lionel Stander. A United Artists picture that is a hit play from start to finish.

Kings: "Night Must Fall" and "That Man's Here Again." One of the strangest and most arresting pictures ever filmed comes to the Kings-ton screen in "Night Must Fall," the weird story of a baby-faced killer whose attraction to women was so strong that they were trapped by his charm and killed by him in the sheer enjoyment of killing. Staged on Broadway this past fall to the plaudits of the critics, the play has been made into an even more brilliant motion picture. Although this production should cause a real shudder or two, it is one of the most unique of the year's films and Robert Montgomery, as the child-like killer, gives a screen performance of unusual depth and ability. He is supported by Rosalind Russell and this M-G-M play is a hit picture to put on the don't miss list. "That Man's Here Again" is a comedy offering, built around the antics of the jittery Hugh Herbert and it is fairly funny throughout.

Orpheum: "Dodsworth." Sinclair Lewis' best selling novel of a typical American business man who goes to Europe on vacation and discovers many unknown things about himself, his wife and his family, was one of last year's finest screen achievements and Walter Huston, Ruth Chatterton and Mary Astor are perfect in their roles. The dialogue is keen and penetrating and the whole play is skillfully staged and acted. A picture well worth seeing.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same. Kings: Same. Orpheum: "Smartest Girl in Town" and "Trouble in Texas." A modern love story concerning a boy and a girl in constant disagreement yet madly in love is the feature attraction at the Orpheum with Ann Southern and Gene Raymond making faces at each other and then making up. "Trouble in Texas" follows the usual western formula with Tex Ritter termed the singing Cowboy, starred along with his horse and cast of lesser lights.

U. P. A. Increases Corporation Size

Ulster Provisioners Cooperative Association, Inc., operators of the U. P. A. chain of grocery stores and meat markets in Kingston and Ulster county has filed a certificate of amendment of their original certificate of incorporation which was filed in 1935. Under the prior certificate the capital stock of the corporation was $5,000, consisting of 1,000 shares of $5 par value.

Under the amendment just filed the capital stock of the corporation is increased from 1,000 shares to 10,000 shares of $5 par value. Application for the increase in capital stock was made by Clifford T. Bennett and Arthur McCuen, president and secretary respectively of the corporation.

Ulster Provisioners Cooperative Association, Inc., is an organization of local grocers and butchers operating under a cooperative plan in order to make larger purchases of merchandise and thereby benefit from decreased costs which enable the individual grocers to offer better prices to their customers. Recently the corporation acquired its own warehouse when the former creamery building on Downs street where a warehouse had been maintained, was sold.

Germany Reported Pushing U-Boats To Spanish Waters

Germany was authoritatively reported today to have rushed U-boats to Spanish waters as a "preparation measure."

An official German agency report said "parts of the third torpedo boat flotilla" left for the troubled area. Chancellor Hitler was described as determined to prepare for any eventuality no matter how the international non-intervention committee acts on his demand for "adequate" protection of the Reich's warships.

British officials hoped a solution was sighted in the crisis that arose from the shelling of Almeria, Spain, by German ships after the German pocket battleship Deutschland was bombed by Spanish government planes.

Reports to London from both Berlin and Rome indicated, it was believed, that Germany and Italy might return to the non-intervention committee, from which they withdrew after the Deutschland incident.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden followed efforts to hasten the two nations' return with assurances of protection for their ships.

In Italy, Premier Mussolini staged a genuine air attack on a mock naval base to show German War Minister Werner von Blomberg how effectively Italian aviation could perform in war.

Il Duce and the German war chief were reported coordinating their countries' forces in Spain for an intensified drive under Spanish Insurgent General Francisco Franco against Bilbao, the Basque capital.

Persistent rumors were heard at Hendaye, France, that the semi-autonomous Basque republic would transfer its seat of government from Bilbao to Santander, about 50 miles to the west along the Biscayan coast.

George Smith Dies in Ohio

George Smith, 42, of 12 Maiden Lane, store manager for the B. F. Goodrich Company, rubber tire dealers, at 726 Broadway, Kingston, died suddenly Wednesday in Milan, O., according to a telegram received at the local store today.

For 20 years Mr. Smith had been employed by the Goodrich concern and was considered a valuable servant. He came to Kingston from Poughkeepsie five years ago, and opened a store on North Front street. From there he moved to 726 Broadway.

Besides his brother, he is survived by a sister, who lives in Miami, Fla. Arrangements for the funeral and burial have not been announced.

Local Death Record

Karl R. Svenson died suddenly at his home in Flatbush on June 2, in his 64th year. He is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. Anna Hill, of Chester, Pa. Funeral services will be held from the Lasher Funeral Parlor in Saugerties on Saturday, June 5, at 3 p. m. Interment will be in the Mountain View Cemetery, Saugerties.

Mrs. Mary Bernear Leedecke, widow of Henry Leedecke, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Christopher Schline, 42 Shufeldt street, at an early hour this morning after a brief illness. Mrs. Leedecke was born in Germany January 20, 1851, and came to this country about 68 years ago. She settled with her husband in Ruby. After the death of her husband in 1921 she came to this city and made her home here ever since. During her long years she made a host of friends. Three sons, John of West Saugerties, Fred of Staten Island, and George of Irvington, N. J., three daughters, Mrs. Madeline Romulus and Mrs. Christopher Schline, both of Kingston and Mrs. Joseph Weber of Newark, as well as 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren survive. Funeral services to which relatives and friends are invited will be held at the Kukuk Memorial Funeral Home, 167 Tremper avenue, on Saturday at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Russell Gaenzle, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, which she attended, will officiate. Interment will be in Mt. Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the Funeral Home, Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock and 7 to 9 in the evening.

C. A. Lyons Buys Huling Apartment House, No. Front St.

Chester A. Lyons of Ashokan has purchased of Ray G. Huling the latter's modern apartment building at 3 North Front street. The building, which is one of the most up to date and modernly equipped apartment buildings in Kingston, consists of three stories and basement, with garage accommodations in the basement. There are six apartments, all of which are occupied.

Mr. Lyons purchases the building for investment purposes and states that he contemplates no change affecting the present occupants, who will continue under the leases they now hold. He will retain his home and automobile business at Ashokan as heretofore. The sale of the property was made through the agency of James A. Sneed.

GOLD FEVER HITS OREGON COMMUNITY

Sizable Nuggets Are Found in Back Yards.

Jacksonville, Ore.—The Methodist church here, built in 1853 and said to be the oldest Protestant church west of the Rocky mountains, may be razed to make way for another of Jacksonville's "back-yard" mines.

During the depression almost every resident of Jacksonville, the second oldest city in Oregon, sunk a shaft in his yard and went into gold mining on a small scale. Some made as high as $500 in a single day working over territory that had been combed fifty years before.

It has been estimated that more than $1,000,000 in gold nuggets rests in the three unexploited spots in Jacksonville—the site of the old church, the old courthouse grounds now abandoned since the county seat moved five miles east to Medford, and California street, the main thoroughfare.

The County court has rejected hundreds of applications to mine the courthouse grounds, the church had refused mining rights, and the city council had vigorously protested all efforts to mine under California street, which in 1850 rang to the boots of miners at one of Oregon's richest gold strikes.

Two rich creek beds run through the town—Daisy and Jackson streets—carrying placer gold. The church and the courthouse are near these creek beds, but their grounds are as yet unworked and a mystery as far as the yellow metal content is known.

A few years ago, despite the efforts of the city council, amateur miners "drifted" their tunnels under California street and a large block of paving caved in. Caves over abandoned mines are not uncommon.

If the church is sold to private interests—and the Methodist council has announced it is on the block—the building probably will be razed and several shafts sunk. Residents hope to retain the building as a historic landmark and make a museum of it. It is said gamblers helped to build it.

War Orphan Establishes Identity After 21 Years

Avignon, France.—Maurice Menard, known in France as "the man without a country," finally has solved the 21 year old mystery of his identity.

Menard, apparently a war orphan, was too young when captured by Germans to remember his full name, his identity or nationality. He remembers vaguely the disappearance of his mother and his life in a German concentration camp for foreign children. From there he was transferred to Switzerland. He could remember his last name but not his first, so people called him Louis.

When he grew up, he became a sub-officer in a Swiss infantry regiment. The mystery of his true identity haunted him and he decided to return to France. He was arrested, for French authorities said that if he considered himself French he had no right to escape military service. He was court martialed and acquitted of desertion and then called into service.

After a lengthy investigation he finally got in touch with the French consul at Liverpool, who was able to send him his birth certificate and clear up the mystery of his identity.

He was christened Maurice Menard, son of Francois, a gardener, and Berthe Menard. They lived in Spofford, England, until 1914, when they crossed to France that his father might join the army and go to the front. Apparently he and his mother moved to a small French village which was captured by the Germans and upon her death he was placed in the children's camp.

Resume Operations

Gillespie, Ill., June 3 (AP)—Full operation was resumed today in the Superior Coal Company's No. 4 mine at Wilsonville, after the six members of a strike committee, which had directed a 200-hour stay-in demonstration in the shaft, were discharged for "interference with the operation of the mine." Fred S. Fahler, president of the company, announced the discharge yesterday of William Campion, chairman of the miners' Stay-Down Committee, Mike Pomatto, William Hendren and John Battuello. The remaining members of the committee, were laid off this morning.

A Helena, Mont. baking firm met its payroll with 10,000 one-dollar bills.

Business Men Hear Of Action To Move Water Board Office

A report that there was more than a remote possibility that the Kingston office of the New York Board of Water Supply might be removed to Ellenville, with consequent considerable loss to this city, stirred to immediate and concerted action the members of the Kingston Business Men's Association, when the matter was presented to them this forenoon at a regular meeting held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The subject was presented to the association by B. J. Winne who said that he had made numerous inquiries regarding a rumor that such a move was contemplated and that while definite information was not obtainable it seemed to have at least some basis of fact. Mr. Winne said that it was reported that Mayor William S. Doyle of Ellenville was taking an active interest in moves to secure the location of the office in his home town and that as one of the inducements to the city of New York to make such a change free office rental had been offered. Mr. Winne also stated that George Gillespie, one of the commissioners of the Board of Water Supply of New York city and chairman of the board, was said to be decidedly friendly toward the move.

In the discussion which followed Mr. Winne's report it was brought out that removal of the board of water supply office to Ellenville would affect some 23 families of those directly connected with the Kingston office and might mean the loss of those families, or at least part of them, to Kingston. It was suggested that the change of office would also result in the removal from the city of other families whose members were connected with the work now in progress or to come later in connection with the Lackawack dam and aqueduct development.

It was the unanimous opinion of the association that everything possible should be done to check the move and on motion of Joseph A. Sheppard a committee was named to investigate the matter and take all possible steps to insure the continuance of the office in Kingston. President Tetzlaff named as such committee B. J. Winne, William Hardenbergh, Herbert E. Thomas and E. Frank Flanagan. It was understood that the committee would seek the cooperation through their presidents of the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce and others of influence.

Many Men of Many Minds

As to the other items of business transacted at the session of the Business Men's Association, which continued till nearly noon, opinions were not nearly so unanimous, on some of them, notably the question of closing one afternoon a week during the summer months and the desirability of continuing the observance of Wednesdays as Suburban Day.

There was no objection to fixing Wednesday, August 18, as Dollar Day. It was also decided that in addition to newspaper advertising the association would issue 30,000 copies of an eight-page circular, to be distributed throughout Ulster county and in portions of Greene and Delaware counties. The opinion expressed was that placards along the roadsides were a waste of money, as they were torn down almost as soon as they were put up. An attempt will be made to secure special rates on busses for Dollar Day.

Opinion was greatly divided as to Suburban Day. Some members said that they had had a very satisfactory increase in trade on that day, others had not noted any increase. It was pretty well agreed that there had not been sufficient cooperation in trying to put it over and the decision was to continue it for the present, giving it more publicity through advertising. Tuesdays being favored as the day in which such advertising should appear.

The question of closing half a day each week also brought out many varying opinions. Ben Fein said that Kingston depended much upon resort business, that there was plenty of leisure time during the winter months and that in summer it was up to the merchants to do all the business they could.

Several other members said that they were against closing during the summer months. John W. Matthews stated that the Great Bull Markets had decided on closing Wednesday afternoons, as had the A. & P. store, and that they expected to continue to do so. He also took the position, as did Manager Connery of the A. & P. store, that merchants might better take such action of their own free will before they were forced to do so by employers.

The association took no action in the matter, except that during the discussion President Tetzlaff called for a show of hands on the closing question. Eight members indicated that they were opposed to closing at all during the summer and two voted in favor of change in the present hour, the other members present not voting at all.

U-Boats to Spain

Berlin, June 3 (AP)—An authoritative source reported today that Chancellor Adolf Hitler had dispatched a fleet of German U-boats to Spanish waters as a "preparation measure."

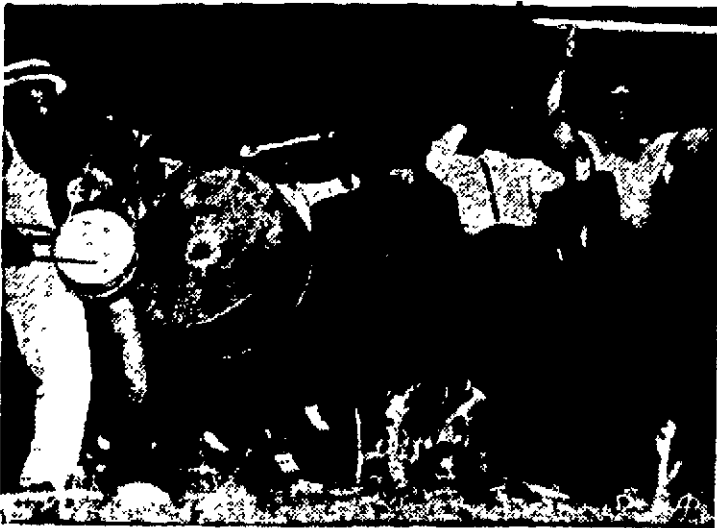

Der Fuehrer was said to have determined to be ready for any eventuality in the Spanish crisis, no matter what action the London non-intervention committee decided on in answer to his demand for "adequate" protection of German warships.

Stages Mock Air Attack

Rome, June 3 (AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini staged a genuine air attack on a mock naval base today to show Reichswehr Adolf Hitler's representatives just how effectively Italian aviation could perform against an enemy in war-time. Italian planes roared in formation to the attack near Fubara as a display for Field Marshal Verner von Blomberg, the visiting German war minister.

Negroes Warm Up For 4th With 'African Fireworks'

Trenton, N. C. (AP)—"Jungle" rhythm is echoing again through the woods around here as drum-beating, torso-twisting darkies warm up for perhaps the strangest Fourth of July observance in the nation. Nobody seems certain how it all started. But as surely as Independence day comes around there'll be a hot time on the campus of Bettis academy. The school takes no part in the rites, serving merely as a stamping ground. Here's a glimpse of a rehearsal:

AROUND A BLAZING FIRE the darkies prance in practice of what they call a "drill"—waving rough sticks in time with the drums. Some will carry wooden guns when 10,000, banded into companies, vie for the title of "best drilled" at the celebration.

WITH LEATHER LUNGS, a captain bawls orders from time to time—but the "drill" seems to take no pattern.

THE STANDARD BEARER goes into an aboriginal strut as he leads a dance that smacks of African jungles and secret voodoo rites.

SCREAMING an accompaniment to the ceremonies, this negro crouches in the fire's weird glow like some figure out of "Emperor Jones."

REHEARSAL OVER, black folks go home for another day's toil. Then a signal drum calls them out again to practice for a noisy Fourth.

About The Folks

Miss Phyllis Babcock has returned to her home on Florence street after having completed her first year at Beaver College.

Mrs. William F. Freer of 111 Gross street is on a trip through the Berkshires, to Cape Cod and other points of interest.

Mrs. W. F. Freer of 111 Gross street has just returned from a most enjoyable trip to the Berkshires, Cape Cod and other eastern points of interest.

A very enjoyable outing was spent at Lake Mohonk on Memorial Day by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gronemeyer, daughter and son, Helen and Harry, Mr. Naske and son, David, of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Koenig, son, Clarence, Helen Gates and Emily Rosenfeld of New Paltz. Mrs. Koenig and Mrs. Gronemeyer visited Mrs. Philip Ayers while there.

Advance Halted.

Madrid, June 3 (AP)—Reinforced insurgent troops appeared today to have halted a government advance in the mountains about La Granja, 33 miles northwest of Madrid. Appearance of the fresh troops was taken in government reports as indication the insurgents were keeping their lines of communication open to Segovia, their base on the northwest.

Bright Prospects For Wheat Growers

Brighter prospects for railroads serving wheat territory, farm supply houses and mail order houses, as well as the wheat growers themselves, are seen in private forecasts of an $78,000,000 bushel crop of wheat this year. These figures point to a crop exceeded but seven times in the agricultural history of the United States. It indicates an income of approximately one billion dollars for wheat growers. The estimate is double the average value of domestic wheat harvest for the past six years.

With a strong tendency in the London market and rumors of an agreement to stabilize the price of gold, stocks opened firm yesterday and all stocks showed an average gain for the day although activity died down following the close of the market. Industrials were up 1.04 points on the Dow-Jones average; rails gained 0.17 and utilities a slight fraction. Corporate bonds were slightly higher and Government bonds a little lower. Commodities were easier.

Remington-Rand reported net of $3,516,732, or $1.75 on shares outstanding at close of period in year ended March 31, compared with $3,010,288, or $1.24 a share on in previous year.

Babcock & Wilcox had net of $11,192 in four months ended April 30, vs. net loss of $143,141 year ago. Addressograph-Multigraph had net of $1 a share in four months ended April 30 vs. 63 cents a share year ago.

Preliminary estimates of freight loadings for week ended May 29 were 775,000 cars, a more than seasonal decrease.

Deliveries of aircraft and aircraft engines in first four months were up 61.4 per cent over a year ago.

A slackening in the demand for new automobiles is reported, but it is expected to have but little effect on factory production unless the drop in demand becomes much sharper than now appears likely.

New York Air Brake earnings for the first half of the year are estimated at around $3.30 to $3.40 a share vs. $1.26 a year ago.

General Motors received an order for heavy duty trucks from New York City Department of Sanitation. L. S. Starrett voted a payment of $1.75 on common vs. previous of 35 cents plus 40-cent extra. American Rolling Mill authorized 50 cents vs. previous 30 cents. American Agricultural Chemical announced a dividend of $1.50 with last preceding of $1.

Numerous additional strikes were reported yesterday. Chevrolet Grey Iron Foundry and parts plant at Saginaw were closed by strike of 5,500 employees, which will cause five engine plants at Flint, employing about 10,000 men to close today.

Wholesale closing of chain stores in Pennsylvania proceeded in anticipation of signing by Governor Earle of the chain store tax bill sent to him yesterday. The Great A. P. reported 80 stores closed in Philadelphia area and American Stores shut down about 70.

DuBois Opens Probe of Crossing Tragedy, Postpones to June 18

In an effort to determine the cause of the accident at the West Shore Broadway crossing on the early morning of May 15 in which Fireman Peter Carey and Preston DeWitt lost their lives and Fireman Finkle was severely injured when the fire truck on which they were riding collided with a train, an inquest was held before Coroner Lester DuBois of New Paltz at the court room here today.

Numerous witnesses were sworn in at the conclusion of the inquest, present an adjournment was taken until June 18 at 10 o'clock at which time the testimony of Fireman Smith and Finkle, survivors of the accident, will testify if the condition of Fireman Finkle is sufficiently improved to permit his appearance.

At the request of Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin and Harry H. Flemming, who appeared for the railroad, Assistant District Attorney N. LeVan Haver agreed to a postponement of the testimony from railroad men until such time as the two most important witnesses, Smith and Finkle, were able to be present and also tell their story. Fireman Smith, who was riding on the truck and was uninjured, was in court today but was not called. Finkle has but recently returned home from the Kingston Hospital and is still unable to be about. He was the driver of the truck.

Physicians' Testimony

Following preliminary testimony of Dr. S. Taylor and Dr. Fred Snyder as to the injuries which Carey and DeWitt suffered and as to the causes of death, several witnesses were called, two of them being practically eye witnesses. Other testimony as to conditions after the accident were testified to by police and firemen and also citizens who were at the scene.

Officer Cramer Called

Officer Wesley Cramer was called and testified that he had been on duty at the creamery fire on Downs street and later had returned to his post in the lower part of the city. He went to the West Shore crossing on Broadway at 2:35 o'clock on May 15. Officer Rodell conducted an investigation with Chief Wood and others. Cramer said he arrived and went to the aid of Fireman Carey, who was injured. He called the ambulance but at that time learned that a call had previously been sent in for it.

He told of finding a piece of the northwest gate about 6 feet 9 inches long at the scene where it had been broken off from the gate by the truck. It was the right up-town gate and the piece was broken off at an angle and splintered. Officer Cramer said he had talked to Carey on his arrival at the scene. Carey was taken to the lobby of the Hotel Ulster until he was taken to the hospital by car.

Chief Wood Testifies

Chief J. Allen Wood testified that he was summoned from his home shortly after he had arrived home and went to the scene of the accident. There Officers Cramer and Rodell with the chief and Chief Murphy of the fire department made an investigation. The piece of gate which was broken off lay diagonally across the down tracks of the West Shore and Wallkill Valley lines and near the south-west gate. It lay to the right of the center line of Broadway. The break was not a clean one but the gate splintered off with a break mark of one foot and nine inches showing along the grain of the wood.

Chief Wood said he directed the taking of photographs by the Pennington Studio and also observed the conditions about the scene. The large pumper was found 78 feet six inches up the track from the edge of the Broadway crossing planking and to the north of the crossing. The front end of the truck faced north, the direction in which the train was also proceeding.

The truck was on the south bound tracks of the railroad and the rear of the truck was found to be 59 feet and 3 inches above the crossing. Chief Wood said the train had apparently been moved when he arrived at the scene.

The gate which was broken still had a portion of 28 feet and 4 inches long attached and only the end was broken off. It was 2:40 o'clock when he arrived at the scene and the injured men had been removed.

Monroe Southard Testifies

Monroe Southard, taxi man, testified that he was at his place of business on Railroad avenue 100 feet away when he heard a whistle of a train approaching from the south. He was talking with Dennis Leehive and Frank Newkirk. He heard the going on the gates right after the train whistle was sounded and a moment later there was a crash. The crash was "a minute after the going sounded" and Southard said he ran over and jumped the fence which divides Railroad avenue from the railroad tracks and saw Fireman Smith on the truck. Smith told him there had been three other men on the truck.

Toward the crossing Southard said he saw two men, one was on the pedestrian walk and one just north of the walk on the east bound or south bound tracks and about three feet from the pedestrian walk. He said he knew both men and assisted in removing Fireman Carey.

The rear end of the train had not passed the truck which stood parallel to the train but apparently was not touching the train then. The train consisted of several baggage cars and two day coaches. Two day coaches and a part of one baggage car was still across the Broadway crossing when the train stopped. There were perhaps one and a half baggage cars below the truck and above the crossing and Southard said the engine and tender and two or three baggage cars had passed the fire engine.

Carey was taken to the Ulster Hotel Lobby and an ambulance called. Mr. Southard said the train and the truck were both still moving when he ran out after the crash. The truck was bouncing along up the track on the railroad. The engine was approximately at the north end of the baggage house when the train stopped.

"It was raining hard, exceptionally hard," said Southard.

Court of Appeals Upholds 4 Actions

gram of grade crossings under the law.

Order Must Be Obeyed

The Court of Appeals in sustaining the lower courts decisions in effect says that where the Public Service Commission directs the elimination of a grade crossing under the grade crossing law that the order must be carried out. In sustaining the majority report of the Appellate Division and the decision of Justice Schriek the Court of Appeals has placed its stamp of approval on the power of the commission to insist that eliminations go forward where orders have been made and where the time for an appeal has expired without an appeal being taken.

Direction of Orders

The orders under dispute were directed in 1929 and in 1934 and the railroads contended that financial reverses since those dates, the engagement of the railroads in state and federal aid elimination programs and the fact that its engineers were busy and engaged in preparing plans for eliminations under such state and federal aid program prevented their complying with the Public Service Commission's prior orders for elimination and made it possible to carry out the provisions of the order. The mandamus actions were brought to compel compliance and the Court of Appeals holds that the orders must be complied with.

Yankee In Lead

Aboard Coastguard Cutter Argo, off Newport, R. I., June 3 (AP)—Yankee went into the lead today as she and Rainbow, contenders for the right to defend the America's cup, got off at 11:40 a. m. (EST) today in their trial race. The course was a triangular one of approximately 27 miles.

Michael Abdullah testified he had been in the Crystal Gardens above the crossing near a telephone booth at about 2:30 and heard the fire truck pass. He went out later and saw a cab and learned of the accident. DeWitt had been placed in the truck and Carey was in the hotel lobby.

The truck Abdullah said was about 50 feet north of the crossing. Asked about the speed of the truck as it passed the Crystal Gardens, Abdullah said, "It was raining very hard and I could not see. I could not give any estimate of the speed."

W. B. Martin on Stand

William B. Martin, foreman of Excelsior Hose, was called. He had been at the fire and with Excelsior Hose wagon had gone to Central station for dry hose. As the truck driven by Judson Dunten reached a point about half way between the Kingston Trust Company Branch and the O'Reilly stationery store on Broadway, Martin said the gates were down and seconds later, not over a minute, the train passed. He said the bell on the train was ringing but he did not hear the going on the crossing gates as they were lowered. At the time he did not see any fire truck up Broadway.

"I did not see the truck. It was raining very heavy and the run was driving on us. We had no windshield. It was raining too hard to see and I did not hear the crash," said Martin.

"Just before we got to the crossing I told the driver to take it easy because of the crossing and our brakes might be wet. We had been standing out in the rain that night and I thought the brakes might have gotten wet," said Martin.

The train stopped with about 2 1/2 coaches to the south of the crossing and the crossing blocked. As the Excelsior Hose truck stopped Mr. Martin said he heard someone by the freight house say, "Hurry up, a car has been hit by the train."

Martin said they started to run around the train but then the conductor came and had the train moved ahead so as to clear the crossing and the truck ran around and the scene was started. When the train stopped the second time the engine was 10 or 15 feet from the station.

Finkle was placed in a taxi, DeWitt on Excelsior Hose truck and taken to the hospital. Martin said he remained at the scene. The damaged truck was about 100 feet to 125 feet from the center line of Broadway. Carey was taken to the Ulster Hotel lobby and later to the hospital.

"It looked funny to me, that a heavy truck with 1,000 feet of wet hose could run into the gate and that light still be intact and burning on the gate. The light was not damaged and was still burning after the accident," said Martin.

Judson Dunten, driver of the Excelsior Hose truck said he saw the gates down as he drove up Broadway near the Trust Company Branch and seconds later the train crossed. William Bush who was riding on the rear of the Excelsior truck said it was raining very hard as they approached the crossing. He had his arm hooked over the rail of the truck and had his face turned in one side to keep the rain off and he heard the crash but saw nothing. He thought the crash at first might be the collapse of the wall at the Downs street fire. The truck was stopped and then the train was pulled ahead and the back passed over and they took DeWitt to the hospital in the truck.

Earl Wood, who was on the front seat of Excelsior Hose truck, said it was raining hard and it was difficult to see. He heard Martin warn them to take it easy near the crossing. When their truck was between Kingston Trust Company Branch and O'Reilly's he heard a train whistle blow. He did not notice the gates come down. The truck stopped at the crossing.

"I don't know really if the gates were down when the train passed," he said. He was paying no attention. He went to the hospital with DeWitt.

At that point an adjournment was taken until June 18, at 10 o'clock.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press)

The aftermath of Dixie Dean's suspension by National League Proxy and Frick was the prime piece of business on today's baseball agenda. But, while Dean was being banned and refusing to sign any and all apologies yesterday, three other old-established firms and two new ones were making potent bids for recognition on a basis of services rendered, rather than relations severed. The trio of veterans who passed milestones of effectiveness were, in the order of their teams' standing: Darrell Elijah (Cy) Blanton, Charley Ruffing and Van Lingle Munsie.

Blanton pitched his third shutout, setting down the Boston Bees, 2-0, and keeping the Pirates on top of the national heap; Ruffing got his fourth straight victory in a seven-hit, 8-4 belting of the Indians to stretch the Yankees' American League march to four games; and Mungo, big Brooklyn right-hander who pitched the Dodgers to within a half-game of the Cardinals by halting St. Louis 6-2.

The newcomers clamoring for recognition after varying brief spans of service also belong in baseball's battery division. One is Lefty Grove, 22-year-old Chicago Cub recruit, whose victory over the Cubs was his fourth of the year and the Cubs' seventh straight; and George Robert Tebbetts, the Tigers' fourth-string catcher whose fourth-inning homer with two on in Detroit an 11-8 verdict over the Senators.

Blanton and Mungo went along almost stride for stride. The Atlanta Braves gave up six hits and fanned six in achieving his sixth triumph. Mungo allowed seven hits and struck out seven in notching his seventh.

But these two, and Ruffing, who has won every game he's pitched since making his holdout-delayed start on May 16, are Major Leaguers of established reputation and ability. Grove, on the other hand, was with Birmingham of the Southern Association last season while Tebbetts, except for the last ten games of the season, spent all of the 1936 campaign with Beaumont of the Texas League.

Young Grove already has built up a name as a Giant-Killer. Three of his four victories have been scored at the expense of Bill Terry's club, now only a half-game ahead of the Cubs. He needed help in the ninth yesterday from Charley Root as his mates won the game on four hits off Harry Gumbert.

Tebbetts, getting his chance through the injury to Manager Buckeye Cochrane, is batting .407 for the eight games he has played. His game-winning homer was his second in three days and broke up a wild inning during which the Tiger infielders made six errors. Jack Russell, who pitched the last inning, was credited with the victory, and Joe Casarella, who hurled the last two was the loser for the Nats.

In the only other game played the Cincinnati Reds, with three double plays to their rivals' four, whipped the Phillies, 8-4. The Athletics, at St. Louis, and the Red Sox, at Chicago, were rained out.

Another Ruth?

—By Pap

ARCHIE TEMPLETON—18-YEAR-OLD PITCHING FIND FROM THE METHODIST CHILDREN'S HOME IN WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.

FOR MY AUTOGRAPH

BABE RUTH—WHEN BALTIMORE SIGNED HIM FRESH FROM ST. MARY'S ORPHANAGE

THE ST. LOUIS CARDINALS PAID HIM THEIR BIGGEST BONUS FOR SIGNING

HE HIT 400 FOR THREE YEARS OF HIGH SCHOOL AND SUMMER BASEBALL

THE CARDS MAY HAVE ANOTHER BABE RUTH IN TEMPLETON

The St. Louis Cardinals may or may not have picked up another Babe Ruth in the person of 18-year-old Archie Templeton. But there are parallels that recall the Sultan of Swat when you review the youngster's career.

Templeton attracted the attention of Cardinal scouts while playing with an orphanage team in Winston-Salem, N. C., just as Babe Ruth did as a youngster in Baltimore.

Archie looks like the Babe did when he launched his baseball career. Teammates call Archie "Moon." He's a husky lad, a 6-footer weighing 190 pounds. He is a left-handed pitcher, too, as Ruth was.

Templeton's amazing hurling and batting prompted the Cardinals to lay out the largest bonus they ever paid for a signature.

In 60 innings this spring Templeton allowed only 16 hits and 11 runs. He boasted a batting average of more than .400 for three seasons of high school and summer baseball.

Templeton, who entered the orphanage from Charlotte nine years ago, did not confine his activities to baseball. He made almost every 1936 all-North Carolina high school football team. Coaches voted him the best schoolboy back of the year.

His work had much to do with the Children's Home winning 12 straight games to run its streak to 34 in a row over three years. This grid record was climaxed by winning the state high school, the state orphanage and the South Piedmont conference titles. Children's Home also has claims on the South Carolina and Virginia championships.

In addition, Archie was for three years the spearhead of his team's attack on the basketball court. Archie first attracted attention when he fanned 24 Mooresville men last year, winning 4-2. He repeated against another team with 24 more strikeouts. This spring he did not lose a game.

Kingston High Nine Blanks Saugerties Varsity by 14-0

Kingston High's diamond cavorters pasted a resounding 14-0 defeat on Saugerties behind Ed Schoonmaker's one-hit performance yesterday afternoon on the upriver field. Making nine hits count for a scoring parade of 14 tallies, the Maroon and White thoroughly revenged the previous upset inflicted last week. Crashing out sizzling basehits to all corners of the lot and taking advantage of the wildness of the Saugerties moundsmen, Coach Miller's maulers racked up their fifth win of the season, and evened the traditional series. Kingston faces Newburgh Free Academy in the decisive DUSO League tilt on Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Field to wind up the season.

With Ed Schoonmaker baffling the upriver nine into submission by virtue of a sparkling one-hit twirling effort, the localities went to town early by racking up six runs in the opening frame. Schoonmaker blazed his fast one by seven upriver batters, issued nary a walk during the seven inning stretch and lost his no-hit bid in the second. With one out, Naudain, left fielder, laced out the long bingle registered by the Cahillmen to prevent the curly-tatched control artist from entering the scholastic hall-of-fame for the second time during his school career.

Only Two Get to 1st

Only two men visited first base during the entire contest as the Maroon hurler notched the near-perfect victory. Beers, red-headed first sacker, reached on Coley's juggle of a ground ball and Naudain's sliding single. Naudain's steal of second marked the stop-sign for the upriver base travellers and the way, maintaining unmolested all the way, battled out in his first effort against the village rivals. Schoonmaker's sterling brand of ball fired the local sluggers into a slugging onslaught.

Kingston opened up its seige-guns in the initial frame snatching six runs on three hits. Walks to Ashdown and Maines, Beck's life on W. Garrison's error. Stoll's sizzling double and Van Derzee's bingle racked up six markers coupled with a hit batsman, Rua's free stroll and McManus' single. Captain Chapelle Van Derzee's long triple carried the solo run across in the second with three runs coming across in the third session. After two outs, Garrison dented McManus with a wild toss and Ashdown drew a free ticket before Beck doubled and Stoll singled to shove across a trio of runs. Two run clusters in the fourth and fifth terminated the scoring parade.

Van Derzee, Stoll Star

Captain Van Derzee laid the wood on the ball for a triple, double and single in four trips to the platter for a field day with the willow. Vince Stoll also racked up a trio of safe tags to continue his neat hitting streak by connecting for a double and a duo of singles. Coach Miller inserted 14 men into the slugging carnival with Kingston whitewashing the upriver brigade for an enjoyable afternoon. Charlie Beck and company face the powerful Newburgh Free Academy nine in the DUSO championship tilt at the local Athletic Field Saturday in the top-notch attraction of the year. The Maroon and White squadron will go into the all-important joust with a record of five wins and three losses. Newburgh will

His Pitching Triumph

Bill Dietrich, husky Chicago White Sox right-hander, pitched a no-hit, no-run game against the St. Louis Browns in his home park, the first no-hit, no-run game in the American League since the Sox stopped the Cleveland Indians dead August 21, 1935. His teammates piled up eight runs while he was holding the Browns scoreless.

Dean Refuses to Sign Apology

New York, June 3 (AP).—Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean today tossed down the gauntlet to President Ford Frick of the National League, declaring he would quit baseball rather than sign the letter of apology tendered following his indefinite suspension "for conduct detrimental to the best interests of baseball."

The show-down was due this morning when the hurling ace of the St. Louis Cardinals and Manager Frankie Frisch conferred with Frick in the league offices.

Frick's disciplinary action, which broke like a bomb-shell yesterday, came as a climax to a series of incidents that have kept Dean in the headlines since the spring training season. The latest sequence began May 19, when the New York Giants and Carl Hubbell beat the Cards and Dean 4-1 in a game that ended in a ninth-inning riot.

Kerhonkson High Trips New Paltz

Kerhonkson High School trounced New Paltz in a NUSO league game at the loser's field by a score of 6-2.

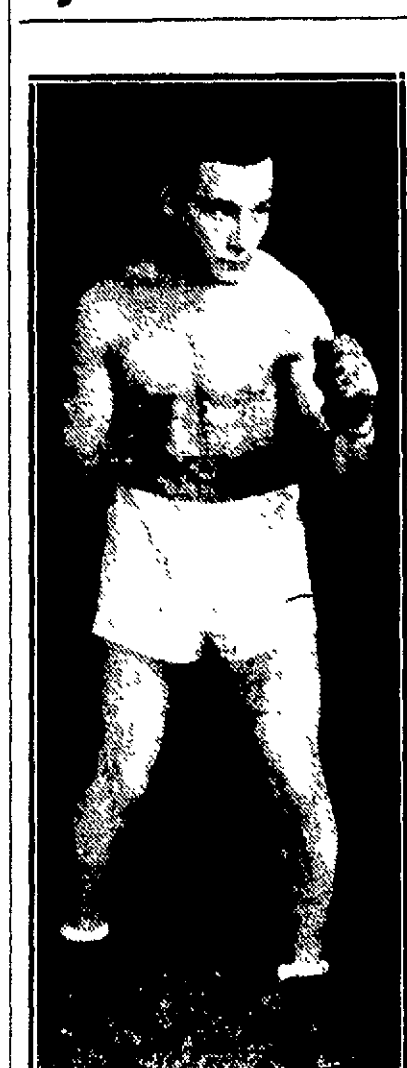

For the victors Davis pitched fine ball in the pinches leaving 12 men stranded on the base paths. Kerhonkson's fielding was spotty, but their timely hitting in the sixth inning pushed five runs across and sewed up another victory.

Scoring by innings:

K.H.S. 100 005 0-4 6 4
N.P. 000 010 1-3 7 4

Batteries: K. H. S.—Davis and Coddington; N. P. S.—Lillberg, Alford and Johnson.

Tommy Zano Wins First Pro Bout By Knockout in Braddock Bowl

TOMMY ZANO

Tommy Zano, the Glasco boy who turned professional about a month ago, after eight fights as a scrapper in the Adirondack Division of the A. A. U., won his first fight as a money scrapper Wednesday night by a knockout.

The Glasco wallop put away Lou Lombardi of Panama in one minute and 32 seconds of the second round at Braddock Bowl in Jersey City with a terrific right to the button. Tommy had Lombardi on the floor for nine counts in the first round.

Charley Roosa, local taxi operator, who picked Zano out of the amateurs, and trained him for his pro career, said his protégé fought one of the nicest "follow up scraps I've ever seen, after he floored his man in the opening round."

According to Roosa, the Glasco puncher made a big hit with the fans and promoter, too, in Jersey, and is scheduled for another bout next Monday night.

Olin Hopes to Win Back Title Tonight

St. Louis, June 3 (AP).—Bob Olin, a rebuilt job, will seek to regain the world light heavyweight boxing championship when he meets John Henry Lewis in a 15-round bout here tonight, and memory of the courageous stand of Olin in his losing battle with Lewis 17 months ago was expected to lure more than 12,000 fans to the arena.

Olin was wrecked quite thoroughly that October night in 1935. For 15 rounds he stood up before a deadly barrage of blows aimed by the nimble-fisted Lewis.

Both men are in top condition, and were expected to be a pound or two under the 175-pound limit when they weighed in at 11 a. m. today.

Despite this expressed confidence, odds against the challenger ranged as high as 4 to 1.

Garden Announces Title Match Tonight

The press department of Madison Square Garden released notices for today announcing the scheduled 15-round bout tonight between James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion of the world, and Max Schmelling, German challenger, at Garden Bowl, Long Island City.

In the press release was stated as follows: "If there is any intervention in the premises it will not be the fault of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, which has kept faith with all the principals concerned and the public alike."

The boxers were expected to weigh in at the offices of the boxing commission today at 1 p. m., then rest until 10 o'clock tonight. Schmelling, it was said, was within calling distance of the boxing salons, ready to appear at the scheduled hour.

Roy Sutliff's Skeeters Hosts to Frank Zelle's May Team Champs

Wednesday evening about 20 members of the Ulster County Gun Club enjoyed a turkey dinner at Henry's Tavern, Wall street, at which time the gunners of Frank Zelle's May team ate up their winnings at the expense of Roy Sutliff's Skeeters.

After the dinner a business meeting was called to order by President "Pat" Osterhout. It was voted to send a team on Sunday, June 6, to compete against the Korhdale Rod & Gun Club of Poughkeepsie. This team, composed of Martin, Cuniff, Zeeb, Osterhout and Bruick, will leave for Poughkeepsie Sunday afternoon at 1:30. A number of other shooters of the club signified that they would make the trip.

The regular weekly shooting day has again been changed. A resolution was passed to shoot on Sunday in place of Wednesday, commencing on Sunday, June 13, with the stipulation that this change was to be tried for four successive Sundays.

The June Teams

Joe Hyatt and George Skinner, two keen rivals, were appointed captains for the June team shoot, the goal as usual being a turkey dinner. In order that a larger number of gunners may compete in the team shoot the number of targets to be shot at has been reduced from 200 to 100 and these four strings may be run off by the team members at any time during the month. The teams for the June shoot are:

Skinner Hyatt
Bruick Martin
Cuniff Osterhout
Benoit Zelle
Zeeb Sutliff
Coles Koening
M. Davenport E. Davenport
Knaust Van Winkle
Styles Ed Smith

Following the business session, the entertainment promised by President Osterhout was enjoyed. Ray Caunitz, local club member and prominent sportsman, was first introduced and gave an excellent account of two fishing trips to Canada in the vicinity of Gananoque. Describing the methods used in fishing for bass, pike and landlocked salmon, he spoke of a country where in a comparatively short time members of his party caught nearly 200 bass between 2½ and 6½ pounds, releasing all but the few used for food.

Joe Hyatt was the second speaker. He gave an informative talk on deer, turkey and quail shooting in South Carolina. Mr. Hyatt told of a club formed for deer hunting where the club member who missed a shot lost his shirt tail. Upon examining the walls of the clubhouse he observed 50 shirt tails, each one tagged with the name of its owner, and all placed there in one season.

The members of the club expressed their appreciation to the speakers and the gathering adjourned.

Rosendale Priest Honored by Parish

On Tuesday evening a large number of parishioners, relatives and friends gathered at St. Peter's Hall Rosendale, to honor their pastor, the Rev. William MacDonald on the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

This affair which was a complete surprise to the happy jubilarian began with a dinner in the rectory for the guest of honor and visiting clergy. Father MacDonald was then escorted to the church hall where he found his friends awaiting him. W. M. Delaney, master of ceremonies, then introduced the Very Rev. Dean Stanley of Kingston who gave an eloquent address.

Father MacDonald was presented with a spiritual bouquet and a purse from the Holy Name men; also a purse from the Rosary Society. A short entertainment was then given. Miss Susan Hornaker, president of the Blessed Virgin Sodality presented Miss Betty Knsten who sang a solo, "Little Old Lady" accompanied at the piano by Lucille Winters. Lucille Winters.

The boys choir accompanied by its organist Miss Helen Myers sang two numbers. The choir augmented by a few others sang a group of songs, Brahms "Lullaby", "Sweet and Low" and "Beautiful Dreamer". Mrs. S. Galvin sang "In the Garden of Tomorrow"; Mrs. J. Duffy sang "I'll take you home again Kathleen" and as an encore sang "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" accompanied by Mr. Hartmann. Refreshments were then served by the Rosary Society assisted by the Blessed Virgin Sodality, after which dancing was enjoyed until an early hour.

Father MacDonald received the congratulations and best wishes for his future from all present.

TILLSON

Tillson, June 3—Rosendale Plains Cemetery was a very busy place Memorial Day week-end. Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday there were many there decorating graves. People come from several states to visit the cemetery. It seemed as though some friend or relatives had visited every grave. The grounds were a beautiful sight with the new flags marking soldiers' graves and cut flowers and potted plants decorating them. People visiting the cemetery met old friends they had not seen for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Van Noodal had 29 guests and callers over the week-end. Some were with them over-night and some were callers only. They were from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Poughkeepsie and Amsterdam and other places in New York state. All came to decorate the graves of their friends.

The Rev. Anson Coutant was at Poughkeepsie all week and over Sunday attending the yearly meeting of the Society of Friends. There was no service in the Friends Church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Deyo spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister and family in Rhinebeck. Mr. and Mrs. Blair of Paterson, N. J. were recent visitors at the home of her sister, Mrs. Zina Coutant.

The Reformed Sunday school is busy practicing every day for Children's Day which will be held Sunday morning, June 6, at 11 o'clock. A very pleasing program is being prepared and all are invited to attend and enjoy the service.

The Ladies' Aid Society will give a supper in the Church Hall on next week Saturday evening, June 12. A very attractive menu is being prepared, consisting of Virginia baked ham, scalloped potatoes, creamed asparagus, stewed rhubarb, cold slaw, rolls, pickles and coffee with strawberry shortcake as dessert. The Ladies' have not given a supper since October so hope for a large crowd.

Maurice Dewey of West Point was home for the week-end.

The streets of Tillson were full of boarders over the week-end and Monday. Every boarding house had many guests.

Callers on Mr. and Mrs. Peter Deyo Monday were Paul and Will Burroughs of Rhinebeck, Roy Ackert of Creek Locks and Miss Harris of Poughkeepsie.

Miss Sadie Schutt and Mrs. George Swart of Kingston called on the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Emerick last week.
